SYNOPSIS

Petitioner craves for permission of this Hon'ble Court to impugn the Judgment dated 15-03-2022 passed by the Hon'ble High Court of Karnataka in W.P No. 2347 of 2022 and connected matters in so far as it declares that wearing of hijab by Muslim women does not form a part of essential practice in Islamic faith. The impugned Judgment, on this premise, upholds the proscription of wearing hijab by Muslim girl students within the premise of educational institutions, including government institutions, ordered by respondents. Even though the orders of respondents endorsed by High Court is applicable in the state of Karnataka alone, the legal proposition settled in the impugned Judgment has much larger consequence all over the country. Considering the significance of issue involved and the interest of entire Muslim community in this issue, petitioner beseeches for leave of this Hon'ble Court to challenge the impugned Judgment invoking the extra ordinary jurisdiction of Article 136 of the Constitution of India.

Petitioner herein is a religious organisation of the Sunni Muslim scholars and clerics having headquarter in Kerala. It was founded in 1925. Petitioner is the largest Muslim organization in South India in terms of number of followers, number of mahals (territories divided into different areas) controlled, number of masjids and the number of madrasas (religious schools), colleges and other institutes run by it. Petitioner is moving the present SLP in the larger interest of Muslim minority community as a whole.

It is respectfully submitted that covering head and neck of woman in the presence of male outside her immediate family is the express dictum of Qur'anic verses and includes in teachings of Muhammed, the Messenger of God and supreme leader of Muslim community. Muslim women across the globe follow this practice in obedience of Qur'anic dictum and teachings of Muhammed ever since the period of Muhammed. Different types of veil are used by Muslim women at different point of time and in different parts of the world to cover their head and neck apart from other garments to cover their body. Hijab is one such veil devised in modern period and it has got widespread acceptance by virtue of its comfort and modesty. It is not the hijab but the purpose behind it, i.e. properly covering head and neck, which is essential part of Islamic tenets.

It is submitted that the Holy Quran speaks of mandatory requirement for women to cover their head and neck in more than one occasion. For instance, Surah 24 Ayat 31 reads as under:

> "And say to the believing women that they should lower their gaze and guard their modesty; that they should not display their beauty and ornaments except what (must ordinarily) appear thereof; that they should draw their veils (khumur) over their bosoms and not display their beauty except to their husband, their fathers, their husbands' father, their sons, their husbands' sons, their brothers or their brothers' sons, or their sisters' sons, or their women, or the slaves, whom their right hands possess, or male servants free from physical needs, or small children who have no sense of the shame of sex; that they should strike their feet In order to draw attention to their hidden ornaments. And O ye Believers! Turn ye all together Towards God, that ye May attain Bliss.*

Thus the Quran dictates to believing women to draw their khumur over their bosoms. Most of the authentic Arabic dictionaries define khumur as "something with which a woman conceals her head", "scarf" or "headgear". Wearing of khumur is a pre-Islamic tradition and the historical evidences suggest that women in that area used to wear this headscarf even before the introduction of Quran. According to the commentators of the Qur'an, the women of Medina in the pre-Islamic era used to put their khumur over the head with the two ends tucked behind and tied at the back of the neck, in the process exposing their ears and neck. By saying that, "place the khumur over the bosoms," Quran ordered the women to let the two ends of their headgear extend onto their bosoms so that they conceal their ears, the neck, and the upper part of the bosom also. The meaning of khumur and the context in which the verse was revealed clearly talks about concealing the head and then using the loose ends of the scarf to conceal the neck and the bosom. Finally the verse goes on to give the list of the mahram – male family members in whose presence the hijab is not required, such as the husband, the father, the father-in-law, the son(s), and others. However, the High Court has failed to appreciate the meaning and context of this Qur'anic verse in its proper perspective.

One other Qur'anic verse speaks of women dress code is Surah 33 Ayat 59, which reads as under:

> "Prophet! Tell Thy wives and daughters, and the believing women, That they should case their outer garments > (Jalabib) over their persons (when abroad): That is most convenient, That they should be known (As such) and not molested. And God is Oft – Forgiving, Most Merciful."

The word used herein is 'jalabib', which means loose outer garments. This verse asks women to case their outer garments over their persons and it further goes to say that it is for their own convenient and safety. It is true that there is difference of opinion among Islamic scholars about mandatory nature of this verse. Some of the scholars like Abdullah Yusuf Ali would suggest that wearing such a loose outer garment over the entire person of woman is not mandatory as the same is prescribed only for her own comfort and safety. But there is no such difference of opinion over the mandatory nature of covering head and neck dictated in the earlier verse. It is the respectful submission of petitioner that High Court has erroneously taken these two verses out of their context and put together to hold that wearing hijab is not mandatory in Islamic faith.

It is submitted that High Court has failed to appreciate the substantial difference between these two versus, and relied upon a footnote of Abdullah Yusuf Ali to Sura 33 Ayat 59 to hold a view that wearing hijab is only recommendatory.

It is respectfully submitted that High Court has further erred in holding a view that absence of punishment or penance makes the wearing of hijab directory and absolves its mandatory characteristic. As per the law settled by this Hon'ble Court in catena of Judgments, for a religious practice to pass the 'essentiality test' it is not necessary that there must be a penalty or penance attached with it. When the Quran, the supreme source of law for Muslims, expressly asks the women to wear the headscarf in such a manner that its edges goes up to their bosom, the High Court is not justified in insisting for a punishment attached with it to get protection of Article 25 for this dress code.

Other major source of Islamic law is Hadis, which means the precepts, actions and teachings of Prophet Muhammed. Hadis are not written by Muhammed but these are reported and codified by his disciples, who had first information of these actions and teachings directly from Muhammed. In one of such Hadis Abudawud has reported that Prophet

Mohammed, while explaining the Quranic verses to his sister-in-law, said as follows:

> "O Asma! It is not correct for a woman to show her parts other than her hands and face to strangers after she begins to have menstruation."

In another Hadis reported by Thirmidi is as follows:

> "Abdullah, son of Umar bin al-Khattab, with whom Allah is pleased, reported that the Messenger of Allah, said: On the Day of Resurrection, Allah will not look at the man who trails his garment along boastfully". Thereupon, Umm Salamah asked, 'What should women do with their garments?' The Prophet said: 'They should lower their garments a hand span,' Umm Salamah further said, 'Women's feet would still be uncovered.' The Messenger of Allah (S), replied: 'Let them lower them a forearm's length, but not longer.'

Thus, the analysis of above mentioned Qur'anic verses and Hadis would show that it is a farz (the commandments of Quran) for women to cover their head and neck and exposing the female body otherwise is forbidden. According to Islamic jurisprudence violation of farz is haram (Forbidden). Hence compelling Muslim girl/woman to avoid her headgear is violation of her right to follow the essential practice of her religion as protected under Article 25 of the Constitution.

It is submitted that the High Court is not justified in reading footnote of Abdulla Yusuf Ali on high pedestal over and above the express wordings of Quran and Hadis. Footnotes of Yusuf Ali are only his personal opinion about the concerned Qur'anic verses and its historical background. This opinion cannot be considered as a source of Islamic law much less it could have been given higher credential than hadis.

It is further submitted that the High Court is also not justified in discarding hadis verses brought to its notice holding that credentials of its translator was not proved. First of all, when there is no dispute over existence of these hadis and their meaning is easily discernible from the plain reading the Court ought not to have insisted for proof for credential of its translator. It is to be noted herein that respondents have no case or dispute over the meaning of these hadis as explained by writ petitioners. Secondly, the translation produced before the court was extracted from a hadis Arabic – English translation written by Dr. Muhammed Muhsin Khan and published by Darussalam Publication of Riyad, Saudi Arabia. Dr. Muhammed Muhsin Khan was Director of Islamic University, Al-Madina Al-Munawwara (Kingdom of Saudi Arabia). Both this University as well as Darussalam Publication are well-known authorities in Islamic jurisprudence and literature. Hence the High Court ought not to have doubted their creditworthiness.

It is respectfully submitted that the High Court is not justified in finding that wearing hijab is not a matter of conscience. Muslim women wear hijab as it is their conscience that the Quran and teachings of Prophet Muhammed tell them to cover their head and neck in public area. This conscience emanates from the above extracted Qur'anic verses and hadis. ‘conscience’ can be defined as what someone believes to be right and wrong. The conscience is a moral compass that helps direct people’s actions. This Hon’ble Court has held in Ratilal v. State of Bombay AIR 1987 SC 748 that conscience is the ‘inmost thought’ or the sense of moral correctness that governs or influences the actions of an individual. Muslim women have, on the basis of these tenets of Quran and hadis, every reason to hold a conscience that they are religiously bound to wear a headscarf that is drawn up to their bosom covering their head and neck while in public appearance. Hence asking them to remove this veil would offend their conscience and thus their freedom of conscience protected under Article 25 would be infringed.

It is submitted that petitioner does not want Muslim girls to defy the uniform dress code prescribed by the authority altogether. Pleading of petitioner is only to permit Muslim girl students to wear a headscarf of same colour as that of prescribed uniform along with the prescribed dress code. Wearing a hijab or similar headscarf of same colour of uniform dress by Muslim girl would not offend the ‘public order’ that is sought to be achieved through prescribing uniform in educational institutions. Compelling them to remove this headscarf also, insisting all students to wear same style of dress in classrooms and prescribing such a strict uniform dress code are anathema to the noble ideas of ‘pluralism’ and ‘inclusiveness’. State action prescribing such uniform dress pattern for entire student community not only fails the test of ‘reasonable restriction’ laid down by this Hon’ble Court but also affronts the cherished idea of ‘unity in diversity’, which this nation has so far been proud of. It is the respectful submission of petitioner that such an absolute uniformity for citizens would not be inconsonance with the values of Indian Constitution but would be seen as a replica of fierce Nazi ideology.

THESE WRIT PETITIONS, HAVING BEEN HEARD AND RESERVED FOR JUDGMENT, COMING ON FOR PRONOUNCEMENT OF JUDGMENT, THIS DAY, THE CHIEF JUSTICE PRONOUNCED THE FOLLOWING:

ORDER

This judgment, we desire to begin with what Sara Slininger from Centralia, Illinois concluded her well

researched article "VEILED WOMEN: HIJAB, RELIGION, AND CULTURAL PRACTICE-2013":

> "The hijab's history…is a complex one, influenced by the intersection of religion and culture over time. While some women no doubt veil themselves because of pressure put on them by society, others do so by choice for many reasons. The veil appears on the surface to be a simple thing. That simplicity is deceiving, as the hijab represents the beliefs and practices of those who wear it or choose not to, and the understandings and misunderstandings of those who observe it being worn. Its complexity lies behind the veil."

Three of these cases namely W.P.No.2347/2022, W.P.No.2146/2022 & W.P.No.2880/2022, were referred by one of us (Krishna S Dixit J.) vide order dated 09.02.2022 to consider if a larger Bench could be constituted to hear them. The Reference Order inter alia observed:

> "All these matters essentially relate to proscription of hijab (headscarf) while prescribing the uniform for students who profess Islamic faith…The recent Government Order dated 05.02.2022 which arguably facilitates enforcement of this rule is also put in challenge. Whether wearing of hijab is a part of essential religious practice in Islam, is the jugular vein of all these matters…The said question along with other needs to be answered in the light of constitutional guarantees availing to the religious minorities. This Court after hearing the matter for some time is of a considered opinion that regard being had to enormous public importance of the questions involved, the batch of these cases may be heard by a Larger Bench, if Hon'ble the Chief Justice so decides in discretion…In the above circumstances, the Registry is directed to place the papers immediately at the hands of Hon'ble the Chief Justice for consideration…"

Accordingly, this Special Bench came to be constituted the very same day vide Notification dated 09.02.2022 to hear these petitions, to which other companion cases too joined.

I. PETITIONERS' GRIEVANCES & PRAYERS BRIEFLY STATED:

(i) In Writ Petition No. 2347/2022, filed by a petitioner – girl student on 31.01.2022, the 1st, 3rd & 4th respondents happen to be the State Government & its officials, and the 2nd respondent happens to be the Government Pre–University College for Girls, Udupi. The prayer is for a direction to the respondents to permit the petitioner to wear hijab (head – scarf) in the class room, since wearing it is a part of 'essential religious practice' of Islam.

(ii) In Writ Petition No. 2146/2022 filed by a petitioner–girl student on 29.01.2022, the 1st, 3rd & 4th respondents happen to be the State Government & its officials and the 2nd respondent happens to be the Government Pre – University College for Girls, Udupi. The prayer column has the following script:

> "1. Issue the WRIT OF MANDAMUS and order to respondent no 1 and 2 to initiate enquiry against the Respondent 5 college and Respondent no 6 i.e. Principal for violating instruction enumerated under Chapter 6 heading of "Important information" of

Guidelines of PU Department for academic year of 2021-22 same at ANNEXURE J for maintaining uniform in the PU college.,

2. Issue WRIT OF MANDAMUS to Respondent no 3 conduct enquiry against the Respondent no 6 to 14 for their Hostile approach towards the petitioners students.,

3. Issue WRIT OF QUO WARRANTO against the Respondent no 15 and 16 under which authority and law they interfering in the administration of Respondent no 5 school and promoting their political agenda. And,

4. DECLARE that the status quo referred in the letter dated 25/01/2022 at ANNEXURE H is with the consonance to the Department guidelines for the academic year 2021-22 same at ANNEXURE J..."

(iii) In Writ Petition Nos.2880/2022, 3038/2022 & 4309/2022, petitioner – girl students seek to lay a challenge to the Government Order dated 05.02.2022. This order purportedly issued under section 133 read with sections 7(2) & (5) of the Karnataka Education Act, 1983 (hereafter '1983 Act') provides that, the students should compulsorily adhere to the dress code/uniform as follows:

a. in government schools, as prescribed by the government;

b. in private schools, as prescribed by the school management;

c. in Pre–University colleges that come within the jurisdiction of the Department of the Pre–University Education, as prescribed by the

College Development Committee or College Supervision Committee; and

d. wherever no dress code is prescribed, such attire that would accord with 'equality & integrity' and would not disrupt the 'public order'.

(iv) In Writ Petition No.3424/2022 (GM-RES-PIL), filed on 14.02.2022 (when hearing of other cases was half way through), petitioner – Dr.Vinod Kulkarni happens to be a consulting neuro – psychiatrist, advocate & social activist. The 1st and 2nd respondents happen to be the Central Government and the 3rd respondent happens to be the State Government. The first prayer is for a direction to the respondents "to declare that all the students of various schools and colleges in Karnataka and in the country shall attend their institutions by sporting the stipulated uniform" (sic). Second prayer reads "To permit Female Muslim students to sport Hijab provided they wear the stipulated school uniform also" (sic).

(v) In Writ Petition No.4338/2022 (GM-RES-PIL), filed on 25.02.2022 (when hearing of other cases was half way through), one Mr. Ghanasham Upadhyay is the petitioner. The 1st respondent is the Central Government, 2nd & 3rd respondents happen to be the State Government & its Principal Secretary, Department of Primary & Secondary Education; the 4th & 5th respondents happen to be the Central Bureau of Investigation and National Investigation Agency. The gist of the lengthy and inarticulate prayers are that the Central Bureau of Investigation/National Investigation Agency or such other investigating agency should make a thorough investigation in the nationwide agitation after the issuance of the Government Order dated 05.02.2022 to ascertain the involvement of radical organizations such as Popular Front of India, Students Islamic Organization of India, Campus Front of India and Jamaat-e-Islami; to hold and declare that wearing of hijab, burqa or such "other costumes by male or female Muslims and that sporting beard is not an integral part of essential religious practice of Islam" and therefore, prescription of dress code is permissible. There are other incoherent and inapplicable prayers that do not merit mentioning here.

(vi) The State and its officials are represented by the learned Advocate General. The respondent–Colleges and other respondents are represented by their respective advocates. The State has filed the Statement of Objections (this is adopted in all other matters) on 10.02.2022; other respondents have filed their Statements of Objections, as well. Some petitioners have filed their Rejoinder to the Statement of Objections. The respondents resist the Writ Petitions making submission in justification of the impugned order.

II. BROAD CONTENTIONS OF PETITIONERS:

(i) Petitioner – students profess and practice Islamic faith. Wearing of hijab (head – scarf) is an 'essential religious practice' in Islam, the same being a Quranic injunction vide AMNAH BINT BASHEER vs. CENTRAL BOARD OF SECONDARY EDUCATION[1] and AJMAL KHAN vs. ELECTION COMMISSION OF INDIA[2]. Neither the State Government nor the Schools can prescribe a dress code/uniform that does not permit the students to wear hijab. The action of the respondent – schools in insisting upon the removal of hijab in the educational institutions is impermissible, as being violative of the fundamental right guaranteed under Article 25 of the

Constitution vide SRI VENKATARAMANA DEVARU vs. STATE OF MYSORE[3] and INDIAN YOUNG LAWYERS ASSOCIATION vs. STATE OF KERALA[4]

(ii) The impugned Government Order dated 05.02.2022 is structured with a wrong narrative that wearing of hijab is not a part of 'essential religious practice' of Islam and therefore, prescribing or authorizing the prescription of dress code/uniform to the students consistent with the said narrative, is violative of their fundamental right to freedom of conscience and the right to practice their religious faith constitutionally guaranteed under Article 25 vide BIJOE EMMANUAL vs. STATE OF KERALA[5].

(iii) One's personal appearance or choice of dressing is a protected zone within the 'freedom of expression' vide NATIONAL LEGAL SERVICES AUTHORITY vs. UNION OF INDIA[6]; What one wears and how one dresses is a matter of individual choice protected under 'privacy jurisprudence' vide K.S PUTTASWAMY vs. UNION OF INDIA[7]. not permit the students to wear hijab in the institutions are repugnant to these fundamental rights constitutionally availing under Articles 19(1)(a) & 21.

(iv) The action of the State and the schools suffers from the violation of 'doctrine of proportionality' inasmuch as in taking the extreme step of banning the hijab within the campus, the possible alternatives that pass the 'least restrictive test' have not been explored vide MODERN DENTAL COLLEGE vs. STATE OF MADHYA PRADESH[8] and MOHD. FARUK V. STATE OF MADHYA PRADESH[9].

(v) The impugned Government Order suffers from 'manifest arbitrariness' in terms of SHAYARA BANO VS. UNION OF INDIA[10]. The impugned Government Order suffers from a gross non-application of mind and a misdirection in law since it is founded on a wrong legal premise that the Apex Court in AHSA RENJAN vs. STATE OF BIHAR[11], the High Courts in Writ Petition(C) No. 35293/2018, FATHIMA HUSSAIN vs. BHARATH EDUCATION SOCIETY[12], *V.KAMALAMMA vs. DR. (vi) The impugned Government Order is the result of acting under dictation and therefore, is vitiated on this ground of Administrative Law, going by the admission of learned Advocate General that the draftsmen of this order has gone too far and the draftsman exceeded the brief vide ORIENT PAPER MILLS LTD vs. UNION OF INDIA[14] and MANOHAR LAL vs. UGRASEN[15]. Even otherwise, the grounds on which the said government order is structured being unsustainable, it has to go and that supportive grounds cannot be supplied de hors the order vide MOHINDER SINGH GILL vs. CHIEF ELECTION COMMISSIONER.[16]

Colleges and a High Level Committee has to be constituted for that purpose. The Kendriya Vidyalayas under the control of the Central Government too permit the wearing of hijab (head-scarf). There is no reason why similar practise should not be permitted in other institutions.

(viii) The Karnataka Education Act, 1983 or the Rules promulgated thereunder do not authorize prescription of any dress code/uniform at all. Prescribing dress code in a school is a matter of 'police power' which does not avail either to the government or to the schools in the absence of statutory enablement. Rule 11 of Karnataka Educational Institutions (Classification, Regulation and Prescription of Curricula, etc) Rules, 1995 (hereafter '1995 Curricula Rules') to the extent it provides for prescription of uniform is incompetent and therefore, nothing can be tapped from it.

(ix) The College Betterment (Development) Committee constituted under Government Circular dated 31.1.2014 is only an extra-legal authority and therefore, its prescription of dress code/uniform for the students is without jurisdiction. The prospectus issued by the Education Department prohibits prescription of any uniform. The composition & complexion of College Betterment (Development) Committee under the Government Circular dated 31.1.2014 inter alia compromising of local Member of Legislative Assembly as its President and his nominee as the Vice – President would unjustifiably politicize the educational environment and thereby, pollute the tender minds. The Pre-University institutions are expected to be independent and safe spaces.

(x) The College Betterment (Development) Committee which inter alia comprises of the local Member of Legislative Assembly vide the Government Circular dated 31.1.2014, apart from being unauthorized, is violative of 'doctrine of separation of powers' which is a basic feature of our Constitution vide KESAVANANDA BHARATI vs. STATE OF KERALA[17] read with RAI SAHIB RAM JAWAYA KAPUR vs. STATE OF PUNJAB[18], and STATE OF WEST BENGAL vs. COMMITTEE FOR PROTECTION OF DEMOCRACTIC RIGHTS[19] also infringes upon of the principle of accountability vide BHIM SINGH vs. UNION OF INDIA[20]. ANITA*[21]. If wearing of hijab disrupts the public order, the State should take action against those responsible for such disruption and not ban the wearing of hijab. Such a duty is cast on the State in view of a positive duty vide GULAM ABBAS vs. STATE OF UTTAR PRADESH[22], INDIBILY CREATIVE PVT. LTD vs. STATE OF WEST BENGAL[23]. Department which prohibits prescribing any kind of uniform inasmuch as they are forcing the students to remove hijab and therefore, disciplinary action should be taken against them. The respondents – 15 & 16 have no legal authority to be on the College Betterment (Development) Committee and therefore, they are liable to be removed by issuing a Writ of Quo Warranto.

III. CONTENTIONS OF RESPONDENT – STATE & COLLEGE AUTHORITIES:

Respondents i.e., State, institutions and teachers per contra contend that:

(i) The fact matrix emerging from the petition averments lacks the material particulars as to the wearing of hijab being in practice at any point of time; no evidentiary material worth mentioning is loaded to the record of the case, even in respect of the scanty averments in the petition. Since how long, the students have been wearing hijab invariably has not been pleaded. At no point of time these students did wear any head scarf not only in the class room but also in the institution. Even otherwise, whatever rights petitioners claim under Article 25 of the Constitution, are not absolute. They are susceptible to reasonable restriction and regulation by law. In any circumstance, the wearing hijab arguably as being part of 'essential religious practice' in Islam cannot be claimed by the students as a matter of right in all-girl-institutions like the respondent PU College, Udupi.

(ii) Wearing hijab or head scarf is not a part of 'essential religious practice' of Islamic faith; the Holy Quran does not contain any such injunctions; the Apex Court has laid down the principles for determining what is an 'essential religious practice' vide COMMISSIONER HINDU RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS MADRAS vs. SRI LAKSHMINDRA THIRTHA SWAMIAR OF SRI SHIRUR MUTT[40], DURGAH COMMITTEE, AJMER vs. SYED HUSSAIN ALI[41], *M. 'cultural' practice which has nothing to do with religion. Culture and religion are different from each other.

(iii) The educational institutions of the kind being 'qualified public places', the students have to adhere to the campus discipline and dress code as lawfully prescribed since years i.e., as early as 2004. The parents have in the admission forms of their wards (minor students) have signified their consent to such adherence. All the students had been accordingly adhering to the same all through. It is only in the recent past; quite a few students have raked up this issue after being brainwashed by some fundamentalist Muslim organizations like Popular Front of India, Campus Front of India, Jamaat-e-Islami, and Students Islamic Organization of India. An FIR is also registered. Police papers are furnished to the court in a sealed cover since investigation is half way through. Otherwise, the students and parents of the Muslim community do not have any issue at all. Therefore, they cannot now turn around and contend or act to the contrary.

(iv) The power to prescribe school uniform is inherent in the concept of school education itself. There is sufficient indication of the same in the 1983 Act and the 1995 Curricula Rules. It is wrong to argue that prescription of uniform is a 'police power' and that unless the Statute gives the same; there cannot be any prescription of dress code for the students. The so called 'prospectus' allegedly issued by the Education Department prohibiting prescription of uniform/dress code in the schools does not have any authenticity nor legal efficacy.

(v) The Government Order dated 05.02.2022 is compliant with the scheme of the 1983 Act, which provides for 'cultivating a scientific and secular outlook through education' and this G.O. has been issued under Section 133 read with Sections 7(1)(i), 7(2)(g)(v) of the Act and Rule 11 of the 1995 Curricula Rules; this order only authorizes the prescription of dress code by the institutions on their own and it as such, does not prescribe any. These Sections and the Rule intend to give effect to constitutional secularism and to the ideals that animate Articles 39(f) & 51(A). The children have to develop in a healthy manner and in conditions of 'freedom and dignity'; the school has to promote the spirit of harmony and common brotherhood transcending religious, linguistic, regional or sectional diversities. The practices that are derogatory to the dignity of women have to be renounced. All this would help nation building. This view is reflected in the decision of Apex Court in MOHD. AHMED KHAN vs. SHAH BANO BEGUM[47].

(vi) The Government Order dated 5.02.2022 came to be issued in the backdrop of social unrest and agitations within the educational institutions and without engineered by Popular Front of India, Students Islamic Organization of India, Campus Front of India & Jamaat-e-Islami. The action of the institutions in insisting adherence to uniforms is in the interest of maintaining 'peace & tranquility'. The term 'public order' (sārvajanika suvyavasthe) employed in the Government Order has contextual meaning that keeps away from the same expression employed in Article 19(2) of the Constitution.

(vii) The 'College Betterment (Development) Committees' have been established vide Government Circular dated 31.01.2014 consistent with the object of 1983 Act and 1995 Curricula Rules. For about eight years or so, it has been in place with not even a little finger being raised by anyone nor is there any complaint against the composition or functioning of these Committees. This Circular is not put in challenge in any of the Writ Petitions. These autonomous Committees have been given power to prescribe uniforms/dress code vide SIR M. VENKATA SUBBARAO & ASHA RENJAN supra, FATHIMA THASNEEM vs. STATE OF KERALA[48] and JANE SATHYA vs. MEENAKSHI SUNDARAM ENGINEERING COLLEGE[49]. The Constitution does not prohibit elected representatives of the people being made a part of such committees.

(viii) The right to wear hijab if claimed under Article 19(1)(a), the provisions of Article 25 are not invocable inasmuch as the simultaneous claims made under these two provisions are not only mutually exclusive but denuding of each other. In addition, be it the freedom of conscience, be it the right to practise religion, be it the right to expression or be it the right to privacy, all they are not absolute rights and therefore, are susceptible to reasonable restriction or regulation by law, of course subject to the riders prescribed vide CHINTAMAN RAO vs. STATE OF MADHYA PRADESH[50] and MOHD. FARUK V. STATE OF MADHYA PRADESH, supra.

(ix) Permitting the petitioner – students to wear hijab (head – scarf) would offend the tenets of human dignity inasmuch as, the practice robs away the individual choice of Muslim women; the so called religious practice if claimed as a matter of right, the claimant has to prima facie satisfy its constitutional morality vide K.S PUTTAWAMY supra, INDIAN YOUNG LAWYERS ASSOCIATION supra. There is a big shift in the judicial approach to the very idea of essential religious practice in Islamic faith since the decision in SHAYARA BANO, supra, which the case of the petitioners overlooks. To be an essential religious practice that merits protection under Article 25, it has to be shown to be essential to the religion concerned, in the sense that if the practice is renounced, the religion in question ceases to be the religion.

(x) Children studying in schools are placed under the care and supervision of the authorities and teachers of the institution; therefore, they have 'parental and quasi – parental' authority over the school children. This apart, schools are 'qualified public places' and therefore exclusion of religious symbols is justified in light of 1995 Curricula Regulation that are premised on the objective of secular education, uniformity and standardization vide ADI SAIVA SIVACHARIYARGAL NALA

SANGAM vs. STATE OF TAMIL NADU[51], S.R. BOMMAI vs. UNION OF INDIA[52], S.K. MOHD. RAFIQUE vs. CONTAI RAHAMANIA HIGH MADRASAH[53] and CHURCH OF GOD (FULL GOSPEL) IN INDIA vs. K.K.R MAJECTIC COLONY WELFARE ASSCOIATION[54]. What is prescribed in Kendriya Vidyalayas as school uniform is not relevant for the State to decide on the question of school uniform/dress code in other institutions. This apart there is absolutely no violation of right to education in any sense.

(xi) Petitioner-students in Writ Petition No.2146/2022 are absolutely not justified in seeking a disciplinary enquiry against some teachers of the respondent college and removal of some others from their position by issuing a Writ of Quo Warranto. As already mentioned above, the so called prospectus/instructions allegedly issued by the Education Department prohibiting the dress code in the colleges cannot be the basis for the issuance of coercive direction for refraining the enforcement of dress code. The authenticity and efficacy of the prospectus/instructions are not established.

have broadly framed the following questions for consideration:

SL.NO.	QUESTIONS FOR CONSIDERATION
1.	Whether wearing hijab/head-scarf is a part of 'essential religious practice' in Islamic Faith protected under Article 25 of the Constitution?
2.	Whether prescription of school uniform is not legally permissible, as being violative of petitioners Fundamental Rights inter alia guaranteed under Articles, 19(1)(a), (i.e., freedom of expression) and 21, (i.e., privacy) of the Constitution?
3.	Whether the Government Order dated 05.02.2022 apart from being incompetent is issued without application of mind and further is manifestly arbitrary and therefore, violates Articles 14 & 15 of the Constitution?
4.	Whether any case is made out in W.P.No.2146/2022 for issuance of a direction for initiating disciplinary enquiry against respondent Nos.6 to 14 and for issuance of a Writ of Quo Warranto against respondent Nos.15 & 16?

V. SECULARISM AND FREEDOM OF CONSCIENCE & RELIGION UNDER OUR CONSTITUTION:

Since both the sides in their submissions emphasized on Secularism and freedom of conscience & right to religion, we need to concisely treat them in a structured way. Such a need is amplified even for adjudging the validity of the Government Order dated 05.02.2022, which according to the State gives effect to and operationalizes constitutional Secularism.

SECULARISM AS A BASIC FEATURE OF OUR CONSTITUTION:

(i) 'India, that is Bharat' (Article 1), since centuries, has been the sanctuary for several religions, faiths & cultures that have prosperously co-existed, regardless of the ebb & flow of political regimes. Chief Justice S.R. Das in IN RE: KERALA EDUCATION BILL[60] made the following observation lauding the greatness of our heritage:

> "…Throughout the ages endless inundations of men of diverse creeds, cultures and races - Aryans and non-Aryans, Dravidians and Chinese, Scythians, Huns, Pathans and Mughals - have come to this ancient land from distant regions and climes. India has welcomed them all. They have met and gathered, given and taken and got mingled, merged and lost in one body. India's tradition has thus been epitomised in the following noble lines:
> "None shall be turned away From the shore of this vast sea of humanity that is India" (Poems by Rabindranath Tagore)…"

In S.R.BOMMAI, supra at paragraph 25, the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India observed: "India can rightly be described as the world's most heterogeneous society. It is a country with a rich heritage. Several races have converged in this sub-continent. They brought with them their own cultures, languages, religions and customs. These diversities threw up their own problems but the early leadership showed wisdom and sagacity in tackling them by preaching the philosophy of accommodation and tolerance…"

(ii) The 42nd Amendment (1976) introduced the word 'secular' to the Preamble when our Constitution already had such an animating character ab inceptio. Whatever be the variants of its meaning, secularism has been a Basic Feature of our polity vide KESAVANANDA, supra even before this Amendment. The ethos of Indian secularism may not be approximated to the idea of separation between Church and State as envisaged under American Constitution post First Amendment (1791). Our Constitution does not enact Karl Marx's structural-functionalist view 'Religion is the opium of masses' (1844). H.M.SEERVAI, an acclaimed jurist of yester decades in his magnum opus 'Constitutional Law of India, Fourth Edition, Tripathi at page 1259*, writes: 'India is a secular but not an anti-religious State, for our Constitution guarantees the freedom of conscience and religion. Articles 27 and 28 emphasize the secular nature of the State…'* Indian secularism oscillates between s*ārva dharma samabhāava and dharma nirapekshata.* The Apex Court in INDIRA NEHRU

GANDHI vs. RAJ NARAIN[61] explained the basic feature of secularism to mean that the State shall have no religion of its own and all persons shall be equally entitled to the freedom of conscience and the right freely to profess, practice and propagate religion. Since ages, India is a secular country. For India, there is no official religion, inasmuch as it is not a theocratic State. The State does not extend patronage to any particular religion and thus, it maintains neutrality in the sense that it does not discriminate anyone on the basis of religious identities per se. Ours being a 'positive secularism' vide PRAVEEN BHAI THOGADIA supra, is not antithesis of religious devoutness but comprises in religious tolerance. It is pertinent to mention here that Article 51A(e) of our Constitution imposes a Fundamental Duty on every citizen 'to promote harmony and the spirit of common brotherhood amongst all the people of India transcending religious, linguistic and regional or sectional diversities; to renounce practices derogatory to the dignity of women'. It is relevant to mention here itself that this constitutional duty to transcend the sectional diversities of religion finds its utterance in section 7(2)(v) & (vi) of the 1983 Act which empowers the State

[61] (1975) Supp. SCC 1

Government to prescribe the curricula that would amongst other inculcate the sense of this duty.

VI. CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT TO RELIGION AND RESTRICTIONS THEREON:

(i) Whichever be the society, 'you can never separate social life from religious life' said Alladi Krishnaswami Aiyar during debates on Fundamental Rights in the Advisory Committee (April 1947). The judicial pronouncements in America and Australia coupled with freedom of religion guaranteed in the Constitutions of several other countries have substantially shaped the making of inter alia Articles 25 & 26 of our Constitution. Article 25(1) & (2) read as under:

> "25. Freedom of conscience and free profession, practice and propagation of religion
> (1) Subject to public order, morality and health and to the other provisions of this Part, all persons are equally entitled to freedom of conscience and the right freely to profess, practise and propagate religion
>
> (2) Nothing in this article shall affect the operation of any existing law or prevent the State from making any law -
>
> (a) regulating or restricting any economic, financial, political or other secular activity which may be associated with religious practice;
>
> (b) providing for social welfare and reform or the throwing open of Hindu religious institutions of a public character to all classes and sections of Hindus.
> Explanation I - The wearing and carrying of kirpans shall be deemed to be included in the profession of the Sikh religion.

> Explanation II - In sub clause (b) of clause reference to Hindus shall be construed as including a reference to persons professing the Sikh, Jaina or Buddhist religion, and the reference to Hindu religious institutions shall be construed accordingly."

This Article guarantees that every person in India shall have the freedom of conscience and also the right to profess practise and propagate religion. It is relevant to mention that unlike Article 29, this article does not mention 'culture' as such, which arguably may share a common border with religion. We shall be touching the cultural aspect of hijab, later. We do not propose to discuss about this as such. The introduction of word 'conscience' was at the instance of Dr. B.R.Ambedkar, who in his wisdom could visualize persons who do not profess any religion or faith, like Chāarvāakas, atheists & agnostics. Professor UPENDRA BAXI in 'THE FUTURE OF HUMAN RIGHTS' (Oxford), 3rd Edition, 2008, at page 149 says*:*

> "…Under assemblage of human rights, individual human beings may choose atheism or agnosticism, or they may make choices to belong to fundamental faith communities. Conscientious practices of freedom of conscience enable exit through conversion from traditions of religion acquired initially by the accident of birth or by the revision of choice of faith, which may thus never be made irrevocably once for all…"

BIJOE EMMANUEL, supra operationalized the freedom of conscience intricately mixed with a great measure of right to religion. An acclaimed jurist DR. DURGA DAS BASU in his 'Commentary on the Constitution of India', 8th Edition at page 3459 writes: "It is next to be noted that the expression 'freedom of conscience' stands in juxtaposition to the words "right freely to profess, practise and propagate religion". If these two parts of Art. 25(1) are read together, it would appear, by the expression 'freedom of conscience' reference is made to the mental process of belief or non-belief, while profession, practice and propagation refer to external action in pursuance of the mental idea or concept of the person...It is also to be noted that the freedom of conscience or belief is, by its nature, absolute, it would become subject to State regulation, in India as in the U.S.A. as soon as it is externalized i.e., when such belief is reflected into action which must necessarily affect other people..."

(ii) There is no definition of religion or conscience in our constitution. What the American Supreme Court in DAVIS V. BEASON[62] observed assumes relevance: "...the term religion has reference to one's views of his relation to his Creator and to the obligation they impose of reverence for His Being and character and of obedience to His will. It is often confounded with cultus of form or worship of a particular sect, but is distinguishable from the latter". WILL DURANT, a great American historian (1885-1981) in his Magnum Opus 'THE STORY OF CIVILIZATION', Volume 1 entitled 'OUR ORIENTAL HERITAGE' at pages 68 & 69 writes:

> 'The priest did not create religion, he merely used it, as a statesman uses the impulses and customs of mankind; religion arises not out of sacerdotal invention or chicanery, but out of the persistent wonder, fear, insecurity, hopefulness and loneliness of men…" The priest did harm by tolerating superstition and monopolizing certain forms of knowledge…Religion supports morality by two means chiefly: myth and tabu. Myth creates the supernatural creed through which celestial sanctions may be given to forms of conduct socially (or sacerdotally) desirable; heavenly hopes and terrors inspire the individual to put up with restraints placed upon him by his masters and his group. Man is not naturally obedient, gentle, or chaste; and next to that ancient compulsion which finally generates conscience, nothing so quietly and continuously conduces to these uncongenial virtues as the fear of the gods…'.

In NARAYANAN NAMBUDRIPAD vs. MADRAS[63], Venkatarama Aiyar J. quoted the following observations of Leathem C.J in

[63] AIR 1954 MAD 385

ADELAIDE CO. OF JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES INC. V. COMMONWEALTH[64]:

> "It would be difficult, if not impossible, to devise a definition of religion which would satisfy the adherents of all the many and various religions which exist, or have existed, in the world. There are those who regard religion as consisting principally in a system of beliefs or statement of doctrine. So viewed religion may be either true or false. Others are more inclined to regard religion as prescribing a code of conduct. So viewed a religion may be good or bad. There are others who pay greater attention to religion as involving some prescribed form of ritual or religious observance. Many religious conflicts have been concerned with matters of ritual and observance…"

In SHIRUR MUTT supra, 'religion' has been given the widest possible meaning. The English word 'religion' has different shades and colours. It does not fully convey the Indian concept of religion i.e., 'dharma' which has a very wide meaning, one being 'moral values or ethics' on which the life is naturally regulated. The Apex Court referring to the aforesaid foreign decision observed:

> "…We do not think that the above definition can be regarded as either precise or adequate. Articles 25 and 26 of our Constitution are based for the most part upon article 44(2) of the Constitution of Eire and we have great doubt whether a definition of "religion" as given above could have been in the minds of our Constitution-makers when they framed the Constitution. Religion is certainly a matter of faith with individuals or communities and it is not necessarily theistic. There are well known religions in India like Buddhism and Jainism which do not believe in God or in any Intelligent First Cause. A religion undoubtedly has its basis in a system of beliefs or doctrines which are regarded by those who profess that religion as conducive to their spiritual well being, but it would not be correct to say that religion is nothing else but a doctrine of belief. A religion may not only lay down a code of ethical rules for its followers to accept, it might prescribe rituals and observances, ceremonies and modes of worship which are regarded as integral parts of religion, and these forms and observances might extend even to matters of food and dress…"

(iii) It is relevant to quote what BERTRAND RUSSELL in his 'EDUCATION AND SOCIAL ORDER' (1932) at page 69 wrote: '*Religion is a complex phenomenon, having both an individual and a social aspect …*t*hroughout history, increase of civilization has been correlated with decrease of religiosity.'* The free exercise of religion under Article 25 is subject to restrictions imposed by the State on the grounds of public order, morality and health. Further it is made subordinate to other provisions of Part III. Article 25(2)(a) reserves the power of State to regulate or restrict any economic, financial, political and other secular activities which may be associated with religious practice. Article 25(2)(b) empowers the State to legislate for social welfare and reform even though by so doing, it might interfere with religious practice.

H.M.SEERVAI[65] at paragraph 11.35, page 1274, states: "It has been rightly held by Justice Venkatarama Aiyar for a very strong Constitution Bench that Article 25(2) which provides for social and economic reform is, on a plain reading, not limited to individual rights. So, by an express provision, the freedom of religion does not exclude social and economic reform although the scope of social reform, would require to be defined." This apart, Article 25(1) deals with rights of individuals whereas Article 25(2) is much wider in its content and has reference to communities. This Article, it is significant to note, begins with the expression 'Subject to…'. Limitations imposed on religious practices on the ground of public order, morality and health having already been saved by the opening words of Article 25(1), the saving would cover beliefs and practices even though considered essential or vital by those professing the religion. The text & context of this Article juxtaposed with other unmistakably show that the freedom guaranteed by this provision in terms of sanctity, are placed on comparatively a lower pedestal by the Makers of our Constitution qua other Fundamental Rights conferred in Part III. This broad view draws support from a catena of decisions of the Apex Court beginning with VENKATARAMANA DEVARU, supra.

[65] Constitutional Law of India: A Critical Commentary, 4th Edition

(iv) RELIGIOUS FREEDOM UNDER OUR CONSTITUTION VIS-À-VIS AMERICAN CONSTITUTION:

The First Amendment to the US Constitution confers freedoms in absolute terms and the freedoms granted are the rule and restrictions on those freedoms are the exceptions evolved by their courts. However, the Makers of our Constitution in their wisdom markedly differed from this view. Article 25 of our Constitution begins with the restriction and further incorporates a specific provision i.e., clause (2) that in so many words saves the power of State to regulate or restrict these freedoms. Mr.Justice Douglas of the US Supreme Court in KINGSLEY BOOKS INC. vs. BROWN[66], in a sense lamented about the absence of a corresponding provision in their Constitution, saying "If we had a provision in our Constitution for 'reasonable' regulation of the press such as India has included in hers, there would be room for argument that censorship in the interest of morality would be permissible". In a similar context, what Chief Justice Hidayatullah, observed in K.A.ABBAS vs. UNION OF INDIA [67] makes it even more evoking:

> "…The American Constitution stated the guarantee in absolute terms without any qualification. The Judges try to give full effect to the guarantee by every argument they can validly use. But the strongest proponent of the freedom (Justice Douglas) himself recognised in the Kingsley case that there must be a vital difference in approach... In spite of the absence of such a provision Judges in America have tried to read the words 'reasonable restrictions' into the First Amendment and thus to make the rights it grants subject to reasonable regulation …"

Succinctly put, in the United States and Australia, the freedom of religion was declared in absolute terms and courts had to evolve exceptions to that freedom, whereas in India, Articles 25 & 26 of the Constitution appreciably embody the limits of that freedom.

(v) What is observed in INDIAN YOUNG LAWYERS ASSOCIATION, supra at paragraphs 209 & 210 about the scope and content of freedom of religion is illuminating:

> "…Yet, the right to the freedom of religion is not absolute. For the Constitution has expressly made it subject to public order, morality and health on one hand and to the other provisions of Part III, on the other. The subjection of the individual right to the freedom of religion to the other provisions of the Part is a nuanced departure from the position occupied by the other rights to freedom recognized in Articles 14, 15, 19 and 21. While guaranteeing equality and the equal protection of laws in Article 14 and its emanation, in Article 15, which prohibits discrimination on grounds of religion, race, caste, sex or place of birth, the Constitution does not condition these basic norms of equality to the other provisions of Part III. Similar is the case with the freedoms guaranteed by Article 19(1) or the right to life under Article 21. The subjection of the individual right to the freedom of religion under Article 25(1) to the other provisions of Part III was not a matter without substantive content. Evidently, in the constitutional order of priorities, the individual right to the freedom of religion was not intended to prevail over but was subject to the overriding constitutional postulates of equality, liberty and personal freedoms recognised in the other provisions of Part III.

Clause (2) of Article 25 protects laws which existed at the adoption of the Constitution and the power of the state to enact laws in future, dealing with two categories. The first of those categories consists of laws regulating or restricting economic, financial, political or other secular activities which may be associated with religious practices. Thus, in sub-clause (a) of Article 25 (2), the Constitution has segregated matters of religious practice from secular activities, including those of an economic, financial or political nature. The expression "other secular activity" which follows upon the expression "economic, financial, political" indicates that matters of a secular nature may be regulated or restricted by law. The fact that these secular activities are associated with or, in other words, carried out in conjunction with religious practice, would not put them beyond the pale of legislative regulation. The second category consists of laws providing for (i) social welfare and reform; or (ii) throwing open of Hindu religious institutions of a public character to all classes and sections of Hindus. The expression "social welfare and reform" is not confined to matters only of the Hindu religion. However, in matters of temple entry, the Constitution recognised the disabilities which Hindu religion had imposed over the centuries which restricted the rights of access to dalits and to various groups within Hindu society. The effect of clause (2) of Article 25 is to protect the ability of the state to enact laws, and to save existing laws on matters governed by sub-clauses (a) and (b). Clause (2) of Article 25 is clarificatory of the regulatory power of the state over matters of public order, morality and health which already stand recognised in clause (1). Clause 1 makes the right conferred subject to public order, morality and health. Clause 2 does not circumscribe the ambit of the 'subject to public order, morality or health' stipulation in clause 1. What clause 2 indicates is that the authority of the state to enact laws on the categories is not trammelled by Article 25…"

VII. AS TO PROTECTION OF ESSENTIAL RELIGIOUS PRACTICE AND THE TEST FOR ITS ASCERTAINMENT:

(i) Since the question of hijab being a part of essential religious practice is the bone of contention, it becomes necessary to briefly state as to what is an essential religious practice in Indian context and how it is to be ascertained. This doctrine can plausibly be traced to the Chief Architect of our Constitution, Dr. B.R.Ambedkar and to his famous statement in the Constituent Assembly during debates on the Codification of Hindu Law: "the religious conception in this country are so vast that they cover every aspect of life from birth to death…there is nothing extraordinary in saying that we ought to strive hereafter to limit the definition of religion in such a manner that we shall not extend it beyond beliefs and such rituals as may be connected with ceremonials which are essentially religious…" [Constituent Assembly Debates VII:

781]. In ACHARYA JAGADISHWARANANDA AVADHUTA, supra, it has been observed at paragraph 9 as under:

> "The protection guaranteed under Articles 25 and 26 of the Constitution is not confined to matters of doctrine or belief but extends to acts done in pursuance of religion and, therefore, contains a guarantee for rituals, observances, ceremonies and modes of worship which are essential or integral part of religion. What constitutes an integral or essential part of religion has to be determined with reference to its doctrines, practices, tenets, historical background, etc. of the given religion… What is meant by "an essential part or practices of a religion" is now the matter for elucidation. Essential part of a religion means the core beliefs upon which a religion is founded. Essential practice means those practices that are fundamental to follow a religious belief. It is upon the cornerstone of essential parts or practices that the superstructure of a religion is built, without which a religion will be no religion. Test to determine whether a part or practice is essential to a religion is to find out whether the nature of the religion will be changed without that part or practice. If the taking away of that part or practice could result in a fundamental change in the character of that religion or in its belief, then such part could be treated as an essential or integral part. There cannot be additions or subtractions to such part because it is the very essence of that religion and alterations will change its fundamental character. It is such permanent essential parts which are protected by the Constitution. Nobody can say that an essential part or practice of one's religion has changed from a particular date or by an event. Such alterable parts or practices are definitely not the "core" of religion whereupon the belief is based and religion is founded upon. They could only be treated as mere embellishments to the non-essential (sic essential) part or practices."

(ii) INDIAN YOUNG LAWYERS ASSOCIATION surveyed the development of law relating to essential religious practice and the extent of its constitutional patronage consistent with the long standing view. Ordinarily, a religious practice in order to be called an 'essential religious practice' should have the following indicia: (i) Not every activity associated with the religion is essential to such religion. Practice should be fundamental to religion and it should be from the time immemorial. (ii) Foundation of the practice must precede the religion itself or should be co-founded at the origin of the religion. (iii) Such practice must form the cornerstone of religion itself. If that practice is not observed or followed, it would result in the change of religion itself and, (iv) Such practice must be binding nature of the religion itself and it must be compelling. That a practice claimed to be essential to the religion has been carried on since time immemorial or is grounded in religious texts per se does not lend to it the constitutional protection unless it passes the test of essentiality as is adjudged by the Courts in their role as the guardians of the Constitution.

ESSENTIAL RELIGIOUS PRACTICE SHOULD ASSOCIATE WITH CONSTITUTIONAL VALUES:

(i) March of law regarding essential religious practice: Law is an organic social institution and not just a black letter section. In order to be 'living law of the people', it marches with the ebb and flow of the times, either through legislative action or judicial process. Constitution being the Fundamental Law of the Land has to be purposively construed to meet and cover changing conditions of social & economic life that would have been unfamiliar to its Framers. Since SHAYARA BANO, there has been a paradigm shift in the approach to the concept of essential religious practice, as rightly pointed by the learned Advocate General. In INDIAN YOUNG LAWYERS ASSOCIATION, this branch of law marched further when the Apex Court added another dimension to the concept of essential religious practice, by observing at paragraphs 289 & 291 as under:

> "For decades, this Court has witnessed claims resting on the essentiality of a practice that militate against the constitutional protection of dignity and individual freedom under the Constitution. It is the duty of the courts to ensure that what is protected is in conformity with fundamental constitutional values and guarantees and accords with constitutional morality. While the Constitution is solicitous in its protection of religious freedom as well as denominational rights, it must be understood that dignity, liberty and equality constitute the trinity which defines the faith of the Constitution. Together, these three values combine to define a constitutional order of priorities. Practices or beliefs which detract from these foundational values cannot claim legitimacy...
> Our Constitution places the individual at the heart of the discourse on rights. In a constitutional order characterized by the Rule of Law, the constitutional > commitment to egalitarianism and the dignity of every individual enjoins upon the Court a duty to resolve the inherent tensions between the constitutional guarantee of religious freedom afforded to religious denominations and constitutional guarantees of dignity and equality afforded to individuals. There are a multiplicity of intersecting constitutional values and interests involved in determining the essentiality of religious practices. In order to achieve a balance between competing rights and interests, the test of essentiality is infused with these necessary limitations."

Thus, a person who seeks refuge under the umbrella of Article 25 of the Constitution has to demonstrate not only essential religious practice but also its engagement with the constitutional values that are illustratively mentioned at paragraph 291 of the said decision. It's a matter of concurrent requirement. It hardly needs to be stated, if essential religious practice as a threshold requirement is not satisfied, the case does not travel to the domain of those constitutional values.

VIII. SOURCES OF ISLAMIC LAW, HOLY QURAN BEING ITS PRINCIPAL SOURCE:

1. The above having been said, now we need to concisely discuss about the authentic sources of Islamic law inasmuch as Quran and Ahadith are cited by both the sides in support of their argument & counter argument relating to wearing of hijab. At this juncture, we cannot resist our feel to reproduce Aiyat 242 of the Quran which says: "It is expected that you will use your commonsense". (Quoted by the Apex Court in SHAH BANO, supra.

(i) SIR DINSHAH FARDUNJI MULLA'S TREATISE[68], at sections 33, 34 & 35 lucidly states:

> "33. Sources of Mahomedan Law: There are four sources of Mahomedan law, namely, (1) the Koran; (2) Hadis, that is, precepts, actions and sayings of the Prophet Mahomed, not written down during his lifetime, but preserved by tradition and handed down by authorized persons; (3) Ijmaa, that is, a concurrence of opinion of the companions of Mahomed and his disciples; and (4) Qiyas, being analogical deductions derived from a comparison of the first three sources when they did not apply to the particular case."
>
> "34. Interpretation of the Koran: The Courts, in administering Mahomedan law, should not, as a rule, attempt to put their own construction on the Koran in opposition to the express ruling of Mahomedan commentators of great antiquity and high authority."
> "35. Precepts of the Prophet: Neither the ancient texts nor the preceipts of the Prophet Mahomed should be taken literally so as to deduce from them new rules of law, especially when such proposed rules do not conduce to substantial justice…"

(ii) FYZEE'S TREATISE: Referring to another Islamic jurist of great repute Asaf A.A. Fyzee[69], what the Apex Court at paragraphs 7 & 54 in SHAYARA BANO, supra, observed evokes interest:

[68] Principles of Mahomedan law, 20th Edition (2013)

[69] Outlines of Muhammadan, Law 5th Edition (2008)

> "7. There are four sources for Islamic law- (i) Quran (ii) Hadith (iii) Ijma (iv) Qiyas. The learned author has rightly said that the Holy Quran is the "first source of law". According to the learned author, pre-eminence is to be given to the Quran. That means, sources other than the Holy Quran are only to supplement what is given in it and to supply what is not provided for. In other words, there cannot be any Hadith, Ijma or Qiyas against what is expressly stated in the Quran. Islam cannot be anti-Quran...
>
> 54. ...Indeed, Islam divides all human action into five kinds, as has been stated by Hidayatullah, J. in his Introduction to Mulla (supra). There it is stated:
>
> "E. Degrees of obedience: Islam divides all actions into five kinds which figure differently in the sight of God and in respect of which His Commands are different. This plays an important part in the lives of Muslims.
> (i) First degree: Fard. Whatever is commanded in the Koran, Hadis or ijmaa must be obeyed.Wajib. Perhaps a little less compulsory than Fard but only slightly less so.(ii) Second degree: Masnun, Mandub and Mustahab: These are recommended actions.(iii) Third degree: Jaiz or Mubah: These are permissible actions as to which religion is indifferent (iv) Fourth degree: Makruh: That which is reprobated as unworthy (v) Fifth degree: Haram: That which is forbidden."

The Apex Court at paragraph 55 of SHAYARA BANO has treated the structural hierarchy of binding nature of Islamic norms starting from Quran and ending with Haram, while proscribing the obnoxious practice of triple talaq. The argument of hijab being mandatory under Ahadith, if not under Quran, shall be treated hereinafter, in the light of such a structure.

2. AS TO WHICH AUTHORITATIVE COMMENTARY ON HOLY QURAN, WE ARE PRINCIPALLY RELYING UPON AND REASONS FOR THAT:

(i) At the outset we make it clear that, in these cases, our inquiry concerns the nature and practice of wearing of hijab amongst Muslim women and therefore, references to the Holy Quran and other sources of Islamic law shall be confined to the same. During the course of hearing, the versions of different authors on this scripture were cited, viz., Abdullah Yusuf Ali, Abdul Haleem, Pickthall, Muhammad Hijab, Dr. Mustafa Khattab, Muhammad Taqi-ud-Din al-Hilali, Muhammad Muhsin Khan, Dr. Ghali. However, this Court prefers to bank upon the 'The Holy Quran: Text, Translation and Commentary' by Abdullah Yusuf Ali, (published by Goodword Books; 2019 reprint), there being a broad unanimity at the Bar as to its authenticity & reliability. The speculative and generalizing mind of this author views the verses of the scriptures in their proper perspective. He provides the unifying principles that underlie. His monumental work has a systematic completeness and perfection of form. It is pertinent to reproduce Abdullah Yusuf Ali's 'Preface to First Edition' of his book, which is as under:

> "…In translating the Text I have aired no views of my own, but followed the received commentators. Where they differed among themselves, I have had to choose what appeared to me to be the most reasonable opinion from all points of view. Where it is a question merely of words, I have not considered the question important enough to discuss in the Notes, but where it is a question of substance, I hope adequate explanations will be found in the notes. Where I have departed from the literal translation in order to express the spirit of the original better in English, I have explained the literal meaning in the Notes… Let me explain the scope of the Notes. I have made them as short as possible consistently with the object I have in view, viz., to give to the English reader, scholar as well as general reader, a fairly complete but concise view of what I understand to be the meaning of the Text…"

(ii) There is yet another reason as to why we place our reliance on the commentary of Mr. Abdullah Yusuf Ali. The Apex court itself in a catena of cases has treated the same as the authoritative work. In SHAYARA BANO, we find the following observations at paragraphs 17 & 18:

> "17. Muslims believe that the Quran was revealed by God to the Prophet Muhammad over a period of about 23 years, beginning from 22.12.609, when Muhammad was 40 years old. The revelation continued upto the year 632 – the year of his death. Shortly after Muhammad's death, the Quran was completed by his companions, who had either written it down, or had memorized parts of it. These compilations had differences of perception. Therefore, Caliph Usman - the third, in the line of caliphs recorded a standard version of the Quran, now known as Usman's codex. This codex is generally treated, as the original rendering of the Quran.
> 18. During the course of hearing, references to the Quran were made from 'The Holy Quran: Text Translation and Commentary' by Abdullah Yusuf Ali, (published by Kitab > Bhawan, New Delhi, 14th edition, 2016). Learned counsel representing the rival parties commended, that the text and translation in this book, being the most reliable, could safely be relied upon. The text and the inferences are therefore drawn from the above publication…The Quran is divided into 'suras' (chapters). Each 'sura' contains 'verses', which are arranged in sections.…"

The above apart, none at the Bar has disputed the profound scholarship of this writer or the authenticity of his commentary. We too find construction of and comments on suras and verses of the scripture illuminative and immensely appealing to reason & justice.

IX. AS TO HIJAB BEING A QURANIC INJUNCTION:

(i) Learned advocates appearing for the petitioners vehemently argued that the Quran injuncts Muslim women to wear hijab whilst in public gaze. In support, they heavily banked upon certain suras from Abdullah Yusuf Ali's book. Before we reproduce the relevant suras and verses, we feel it appropriate to quote what Prophet had appreciably said at sūra (ii) verse 256 in Holy Quran: 'Let there be no compulsion in religion…' What Mr. Abdullah Yusuf Ali in footnote 300 to this verse, appreciably reasons out, is again worth quoting: 'Compulsion is incompatible with religion because religion depends upon faith and will, and these would be meaningless if induced by force…' With this at heart, we are reproducing the following verses from the scripture, which were pressed into service at the Bar.

Sūra xxiv* (Nūr):

The environmental and social influences which most frequently wreck our spiritual ideals have to do with sex, and especially with its misuse, whether in the form of unregulated behavior, of false charges or scandals, or breach of the refined conventions of personal or domestic privacy. Our complete conquest of all pitfalls in such matters enables us to rise to the higher regions of Light and of God-created Nature, about which a mystic doctrine is suggested. This subject is continued in the next Sūra.

Privacy should be respected, and the utmost decorum should be observed in dress and manners
(xxiv. 27 – 34, and C. 158)

Domestic manners and manners in public or collective life all contribute to the highest virtues, and are part of our spiritual duties leading upto God"
(xxiv. 58 – 64, and C. 160).

"And say to the believing women
That they should lower
Their gaze and guard[].*
Their modesty; that they Should not display their Beauty and ornaments except*
What (must ordinarily) appear Thereof; that they should Draw their veils over
Their bosoms and not display
Their beauty except
To their husband, their fathers,
Their husbands' father, their sons,
Their husbands' sons,
Their brothers or their brothers' sons,
Or their sisters' sons,

[*] References to the footnote attached to these verses shall be made in subsequent paragraphs.

Or their women, or the slaves
Whom their right hands
Possess, or male servants
Free from physical needs,
Or small children who
Have no sense of the shame
Of sex; that they Should strike their feet
In order to draw attention
To their hidden ornaments.
And O ye Believers!
Turn ye all together
Towards God, that ye
May attain Bliss.[]"* (xxiv. 31, C. – 158)

Sūra xxxiii (Ahzāb)

"Prophet! Tell
Thy wives and daughters,
And the believing women[],*
That they should case
Their outer garments over[*]
Their persons (when abroad):
That is most convenient,
That they should be known[*]
(As such) and not molested.
And God is Oft – Forgiving, [*]
Most Merciful." (xxxiii. 59, C. - 189)

Is hijab Islam-specific?

(ii) Hijab is a veil ordinarily worn by Muslim women, is true. Its origin in the Arabic verb hajaba, has etymological similarities with the verb "to hide". Hijab nearly translates to partition, screen or curtain. There are numerous dimensions of understanding the usage of the hijab: visual, spatial, ethical and moral. This way, the hijab hides, marks the difference, protects, and arguably affirms the religious identity of the Muslim women. This word as such is not employed in Quran, cannot be disputed, although commentators may have employed it. Indian jurist Abdullah Yusuf Ali referring to sūra (xxxiii), verse 59, at footnote 3765 in his book states: "Jilbāb, plural Jalābib: an outer garment; a long gown covering the whole body, or a cloak covering the neck as bosom.". In the footnote 3760 to Verse 53, he states: "...In the wording, note that for Muslim women generally, no screen or hijab (Purdah) is mentioned, but only a veil to cover the bosom, and modesty in dress. The screen was a special feature of honor for the Prophet's household, introduced about five or six years before his death..." Added, in footnote 3767 to verse 59 of the same sura, he opines: "This rule was not absolute: if for any reason it could not be observed, 'God is Oft. Returning, Most Merciful.'..." Thus, there is sufficient intrinsic material within the scripture itself to support the view that wearing hijab has been only recommendatory, if at all it is.

(iii) The Holy Quran does not mandate wearing of hijab or headgear for Muslim women. Whatever is stated in the above sūras, we say, is only directory, because of absence of prescription of penalty or penance for not wearing hijab, the linguistic structure of verses supports this view. This apparel at the most is a means to gain access to public places and not a religious end in itself. It was a measure of women enablement and not a figurative constraint. There is a laudable purpose which can be churned out from Yusuf Ali's footnotes 2984, 2985 & 2987 to verses in Sūra xxiv (Nūr) and footnotes *3764 & 3765 to verses in Sū*ra xxxiii (Ahzāb). They are reproduced below:

Sūra xxiv* (Nūr)

> "2984. The need for modesty is the same in both men and women. But on account of the differentiation of the sexes in nature, temperaments and social life, a greater amount of privacy is required for women than for men, especially in the matter of dress and uncovering of the bosom."
> "2985. Zinat means both natural beauty and artificial ornaments. I think both are implied here but chiefly the former. The woman is asked 'not to make a display of her figure or appear in undress except to the following classes of people: (1) her husband, (2) her near relatives who would be living in the same house, and with whom a certain amount of negligé is permissible: (3) her women i.e., her maid-servants, who would be constantly in attendance on her; some Commentators include all believing women; it is not good form in a Muslim household for women to meet other women, except when they are properly dressed; (4) slaves, male and female, as they would be in constant attendance; but this item would now be blank, with the abolition of slavery; (5) old or infirm men-servants; and (6) infants or small children before they get a sense of sex.

"2987. While all these details of the purity and the good form of domestic life are being brought to our attention, we are clearly reminded that the chief object we should hold in view is our spiritual welfare. All our brief life on this earth is a probation, and we must make our individual, domestic, and social life all contribute to our holiness, so that we can get the real success and bliss which is the aim of our spiritual endeavor. Mystics understand the rules of decorum themselves to typify spiritual truths. Our soul, like a modest maiden, allows not her eyes to stray from the One True God. And her beauty is not for vulgar show but for God."

Sūra xxxiii (Ahzāb)

"3764. This is for all Muslim women, those of the Prophet's household, as well as the others. The times were those of insecurity (see next verse) and they were asked to cover themselves with outer garments when walking abroad. It was never contemplated that they should be confined to their houses like prisoners."

"3765. Jilbāb, plural Jalābib: an outer garment; a long gown covering the whole body, or a cloak covering the neck as bosom."

(iv) The essential part of a religion is primarily to be ascertained with reference to the doctrine of that religion itself, gains support from the following observations in INDIAN YOUNG LAWYERS ASSOCIATION:

> "286. In determining the essentiality of a practice, it is crucial to consider whether the practice is prescribed to be of an obligatory nature within that religion. If a practice is optional, it has been held that it cannot be said to be 'essential' to a religion. A practice claimed to be essential must be such that the nature of the religion would be altered in the absence of that practice. If there is a fundamental change in the character of the religion, only then can such a practice be claimed to be an 'essential' part of that religion."

It is very pertinent to reproduce what the Islamic jurist Asaf A.A. Fyzee, supra at pages 9-11 of his book states:

> "…We have the Qur'an which is the very word of God. Supplementary to it we have Hadith which are the Traditions of the Prophet- the records of his actions and his sayings- from which we must derive help and inspiration in arriving at legal decisions. If there is nothing either in the Qur'an or in the Hadith to answer the particular question which is before us, we have to follow the dictates of secular reason in accordance with certain definite principles. These principles constitute the basis of sacred law or Shariat as the Muslim doctors understand it. And it is these fundamental juristic notions which we must try to study and analyse before we approach the study of the Islamic civil law as a whole, or even that small part of it which in India is known as Muslim law…"

(v) Petitioners pressed into service sūra (xxxiii), verse 59, in support of their contention that wearing hijab is an indispensable requirement of Islamic faith. This contention is bit difficult to countenance. It is relevant to refer to the historical aspects of this particular verse as vividly explained by Abdullah Yusuf Ali himself at footnote 3766:

> "The object was not to restrict the liberty of women, but to protect them from harm and molestation under the conditions then existing in Medina. In the East and in the West a distinctive public dress of some sort or another has always been a badge of honour or distinction, both among men and women. This can be traced back to the earliest civilizations. Assyrian Law in its palmist days (say, 7th century B.C.), enjoined the veiling of married women and forbade the veiling of slaves and women of ill fame: see Cambridge Ancient History, III.107*"*

It needs to be stated that wearing hijab is not religion-specific, as explained by Sara Slininger from Centralia, Illinois in her research paper "VEILED WOMEN: HIJAB, RELIGION, AND CULTURAL PRACTICE". What she writes throws some light on the socio-cultural practices of wearing hijab in the region, during the relevant times:

> "Islam was not the first culture to practice veiling their women. Veiling practices started long before the Islamic prophet Muhammad was born. Societies like the Byzantines, Sassanids, and other cultures in Near and Middle East practiced veiling. There is even some evidence that indicates that two clans in southwestern Arabia practiced veiling in pre-Islamic times, the Banū Ismāʿīl and Banū Qaḥṭān. Veiling was a sign of a women's social status within those societies. In Mesopotamia, the veil was a sign of a woman's high status and respectability. Women wore the veil to distinguish Slininger themselves from slaves and unchaste women. In some ancient legal traditions, such as in Assyrian law, unchaste or unclean women, such as harlots and slaves, were prohibited from veiling themselves. If they were caught illegally veiling, they were liable to severe penalties. The practice of veiling spread throughout the ancient world the same way that many other ideas traveled from place to place during this time: invasion."

(vi) Regard being had to the kind of life conditions then obtaining in the region concerned, wearing hijab was recommended as a measure of social security for women and to facilitate their safe access to public domain. At the most the practice of wearing this apparel may have something to do with culture but certainly not with religion. This gains credence from Yusuf Ali's Note 3764 to verse 59 which runs as under:

> "…The times were those of insecurity (see next verse) and they were asked to cover themselves with outer garments when walking abroad. It was never contemplated that they should be confined to their houses like prisoners."

History of mankind is replete with instances of abuse and oppression of women. The region and the times from which Islam originated were not an exception. The era before the introduction of Islam is known as Jahiliya-a time of barbarism and ignorance. The Quran shows concern for the cases of 'molestation of innocent women' and therefore, it recommended wearing of this and other apparel as a measure of social security. May be in the course of time, some elements of religion permeated into this practice as ordinarily happens in any religion. However, that per se does not render the practice predominantly religious and much less essential to the Islamic faith. This becomes evident from Ali's footnote 3768 to verse 60 which concludes with the following profound line "Alas! We must ask ourselves the question: 'Are these conditions present among us today?'" Thus, it can be reasonably assumed that the practice of wearing hijab had a thick nexus to the socio-cultural conditions then prevalent in the region. The veil was a safe means for the women to leave the confines of their homes. Ali's short but leading question is premised on this analysis. What is not religiously made obligatory therefore cannot be made a quintessential aspect of the religion through public agitations or by the passionate arguments in courts.

(vii) Petitioners also relied upon verses 4758 & 4759 (Chapter 12) from Dr.Muhammad Muhsin Khan's 'The Translation of the Meanings of Sahih Al-Bukhari, Arabic-English', Volume 6, Darussalam publication, Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. This verse reads:

> "4758. Narrated 'Aishah': May Allah bestow His Mercy on the early emigrant women. When Allah revealed:
> "…and to draw their veils all over their Juyubihinna (i.e., their bodies, faces, necks and bosoms)…" (V.24:31) they tore their Murut (woolen dresses or waist-binding clothes or aprons etc.) and covered their heads and faces with those torn Muruts.

> 4759. Narrated Safiyya bint Shaiba: Aishah used to say: "When (the Verse): '… and to draw their veils all over their Juhubihinna (i.e., their bodies, faces, necks and bosoms, etc.)…' (V.24:31) was revealed, (the ladies) cult their waist-sheets from their margins and covered their heads and faces with those cut pieces of cloth."

Firstly, no material is placed by the petitioners to show the credentials of the translator namely Dr.Muhammad Muhsin Khan. The first page of volume 6 describes him as: "F*ormerly Director, University Hospital, Islamic University, Al-Madina, Al-Munawwara (Kingdom of Saudi Arabia).* By this, credentials required for a commentator cannot be assumed. He has held a prominent position in the field of medicine, is beside the point. We found reference to this author in a decision of Jammu & Kashmir High Court in LUBNA MEHRAJ VS. MEHRAJ-UD-DIN KANTH[70]. Even here, no credentials are discussed nor is anything stated about the authenticity and reliability of his version of Ahadith. Secondly, the text & context of the verse do not show its obligatory nature. Our attention is not drawn to any other verses in the translation from which we can otherwise infer its mandatory nature. Whichever be the religion, whatever is stated in the scriptures, does not become per se mandatory in a wholesale way. That is how the concept of essential religious practice, is coined. If everything were to be essential to the religion logically, this very concept would not have taken birth. It is on this premise the Apex Court in SHAYARA BANO, proscribed the 1400 year old pernicious practice of triple talaq in Islam. What is made recommendatory by the Holy Quran cannot be metamorphosed into mandatory dicta by Ahadith which is treated as supplementary to the scripture. A contra argument offends the very logic of Islamic jurisprudence and normative hierarchy of sources. This view gains support from paragraph 42 of SHAYARA BANO which in turn refers to Fyzee's work. Therefore, this contention too fails.

X. AS TO VIEWS OF OTHER HIGH COURTS ON HIJAB BEING AN ESSENTIAL RELIGIOUS PRACTICE:

Strangely, in support of their version and counter version, both the petitioners and the respondents drew our attention to two decisions of the Kerala High Court, one decision of Madras and Bombay each. Let us examine what these cases were and from which fact matrix, they emanated.

(i) In re AMNAH BINT BASHEER, supra: this judgment was rendered by a learned Single Judge A.Muhamed Mustaque J. of Hon'ble Kerala High Court on 26.4.2016. Petitioner, the students (minors) professing Islam had an issue with the dress code prescribed for All India Pre-Medical Entrance Test, 2016. This prescription by the Central Board of Secondary Education was in the wake of large scale malpractices in the entrance test during the previous years. At paragraph 29, learned Judge observed:

> "Thus, the analysis of the Quranic injunctions and the Hadiths would show that it is a farz to cover the head and wear the long sleeved dress except face part and exposing the body otherwise is forbidden (haram). When farz is violated by action opposite to farz that action becomes forbidden (haram). However, there is a possibility of having different views or opinions for the believers of the Islam based on Ijithihad (independent reasoning). This Court is not discarding such views. The possibility of having different propositions is not a ground to deny the freedom, if such propositions have some foundation in the claim…"

Firstly, it was not a case of school uniform as part of Curricula as such. Students were taking All India Pre-Medical Entrance Test, 2016 as a onetime affair and not on daily basis, unlike in schools. No Rule or Regulation having force of law prescribing such a uniform was pressed into service. Secondly, the measure of ensuring personal examination of the candidates with the presence of one lady member prior to they entering the examination hall was a feasible alternative. This 'reasonable exception' cannot be stretched too wide to swallow the rule itself. That feasibility evaporates when one comes to regular adherence to school uniform on daily basis. Thirdly, learned Judge himself in all grace states: "However, there is a possibility of having different views or opinions for the believers of the Islam based on Ijithihad (independent reasoning). In formulating our view, i.e., in variance with this learned Judge's, we have heavily drawn from the considered opinions of Abdullah Yusuf Ali's works that are recognized by the Apex Court as being authoritative vide SHAYARA BANO and in other several decisions. There is no reference to this learned authors' commentary in the said judgment. Learned Judge refers to other commentators whose credentials and authority are not forthcoming. The fact that the Writ Appeal against the same came to be negatived[71] by a Division Bench, does not make much difference. Therefore, from this decision, both the sides cannot derive much support for their mutually opposing versions.

(ii) In re FATHIMA THASNEEM supra: the girl students professing Islam had an issue with the dress code prescribed by the management of a school run by a religious minority (Christians) who had protection under Articles 29 & 30 of the

[71] (2016) SCC Online Ker 487

Constitution. This apart, learned Judge i.e., A.Muhamed Mustaque J. was harmonizing the competing interests protected by law i.e., community rights of the minority educational institution and the individual right of a student. He held that the former overrides the latter and negatived the challenge, vide order dated 4.12.2018 with the following observation:

> "10. In such view of the matter, I am of the considered view that the petitioners cannot seek imposition of their individual right as against the larger right of the institution. It is for the institution to decide whether the petitioners can be permitted to attend the classes with the headscarf and full sleeve shirt. It is purely within the domain of the institution to decide on the same. The Court cannot even direct the institution to consider such a request. Therefore, the writ petition must fail. Accordingly, the writ petition is dismissed. If the petitioners approach the institution for Transfer Certificate, the school authority shall issue Transfer Certificate without making any remarks. No doubt, if the petitioners are willing to abide by the school dress code, they shall be permitted to continue in the same school…"

This decision follows up to a particular point the reasoning in the earlier decision (2016), aforementioned. Neither the petitioners nor the respondent-State can bank upon this decision, its fact matrix being miles away from that of these petitions. This apart, what we observed about the earlier decision substantially holds water for this too.

(iii) In re FATHIMA HUSSAIN, supra: This decision by a Division Bench of Bombay High Court discussed about Muslim girl students' right to wear hijab "…in exclusive girls section cannot be said to in any manner acting inconsistent with the aforesaid verse 31 or violating any injunction provided in Holy Quran. It is not an obligatory overt act enjoined by Muslim religion that a girl studying in all girl section must wear head-covering. The essence of Muslim religion or Islam cannot be said to have been interfered with by directing petitioner not to wear head-scarf in the school." These observations should strike the death knell to Writ Petition Nos.2146, 2347, 3038/2022 wherein the respondent college happens to be all-girl-institution (not co-education). The Bench whilst rejecting the petition, at paragraph 8 observed: "We therefore, do not find any merit in the contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner that direction given by the Principal to the petitioner on 28-11-2001 to not to wear head-scarf or cover her head while attending school is violative of Article 25 of Constitution of India." We are at loss to know how this decision is relevant for the adjudication of these petitions.

(iv) In re SIR M. VENKATA SUBBARAO, supra: The challenge in this case was to paragraph 1 of the Code of Conduct prescribing a dress code for the teachers. The Division Bench of Madras High Court while dismissing the challenge at paragraph 16 observed as under:

> "For the foregoing reasons and also in view of the fact that the teachers are entrusted with not only teaching subjects prescribed under the syllabus, but also entrusted with the duty of inculcating discipline amongst the students, they should set high standards of discipline and should be a role model for the students. We have elaborately referred to the role of teachers in the earlier portion of the order. Dress code, in our view, is one of the modes to enforce discipline not only amongst the students, but also amongst the teachers. Such imposition of dress code for following uniform discipline cannot be the subject matter of litigation that too, at the instance of the teachers, who are vested with the responsibility of inculcating discipline amongst the students. The Court would be very slow to interfere in the matter of discipline imposed by the management of the school only on the ground that it has no statutory background. That apart, we have held that the management of the respondent school had the power to issue circulars in terms of clause 6 of Annexure VIII of the Regulations. In that view of the matter also, we are unable to accept the contention of the learned counsel for appellant in questioning the circular imposing penalty for not adhering to the dress code."

This case has completely a different fact matrix. Even the State could not have banked upon this in structuring the impugned Govt. Order dated 5.2.2022. The challenge to the dress code was by the teacher and not by the students. The freedom of conscience or right to religion under Article 25 was not discussed. This decision is absolutely irrelevant.

(v) In re PRAYAG DAS vs. CIVIL JUDGE BULANDSHAHR[72]: This decision is cited by the petitioner in W.P.No.4338/2022 (PIL) who supports the case of the State. This decision related to a challenge to the prescription of dress code for the lawyers. The Division Bench of Allahabad High Court whilst rejecting the challenge, observed at paragraph 20 as under:

> "In our opinion the various rules prescribing the dress of an Advocate serve a very useful purpose. In the first place, they distinguish an Advocate from a litigant or other members of the public who may be jostling with him in a Court room. They literally reinforce the Shakespearian aphorism that the apparel oft proclaims the man. When a lawyer is in prescribed dress his identity can never be mistaken. In the second place, a uniform prescribed dress worn by the members of the Bar induces a seriousness of purpose and a sense of decorum which are highly conducive to the dispensation of justice..."

This decision is not much relevant although it gives some idea as to the justification for prescribing uniform, be it in a profession or in an educational institution. Beyond this, it is of no utility to the adjudication of issues that are being debated in these petitions.

XI. AS TO WEARING HIJAB BEING A MATTER OF FREEDOM OF CONSCIENCE:

(1) Some of the petitioners vehemently argued that, regardless of right to religion, the girl students have the freedom of conscience guaranteed under Article 25 itself and that they have been wearing hijab as a matter of conscience and therefore, interdicting this overt act is offensive to their conscience and thus, is violative of their fundamental right. In support, they heavily rely upon BIJOE EMMANUEL supra, wherein at paragraph 25, it is observed as under:

> "We are satisfied, in the present case, that the expulsion of the three children from the school for the reason that because of their conscientiously held religious faith, they do not join the singing of the national anthem in the morning assembly though they do stand up respectfully when the anthem is sung, is a violation of their fundamental right to freedom of conscience and freely to profess, practice and propagate religion." .

Conscience is by its very nature subjective. Whether the petitioners had the conscience of the kind and how they developed it are not averred in the petition with material particulars. Merely stating that wearing hijab is an overt act of conscience and therefore, asking them to remove hijab would offend conscience, would not be sufficient for treating it as a ground for granting relief. Freedom of conscience as already mentioned above, is in distinction to right to religion as was clarified by Dr. B.R.Ambedkar in the Constituent Assembly Debates. There is scope for the argument that the freedom of conscience and the right to religion are mutually exclusive. Even by overt act, in furtherance of conscience, the matter does not fall into the domain of right to religion and thus, the distinction is maintained. No material is placed before us for evaluation and determination of pleaded conscience of the petitioners. They have not averred anything as to how they associate wearing hijab with their conscience, as an overt act. There is no evidence that the petitioners chose to wear their headscarf as a means of conveying any thought or belief on their part or as a means of symbolic expression. Pleadings at least for urging the ground of conscience are perfunctory, to say the least.

(2) BIJOE EMMANUEL CASE: ITS FACT MATRIX AND RATIO DECIDENDI:

(i) Since the petitioners heavily banked upon BIJOE EMMANUEL, in support of their contention as to freedom of conscience, we need to examine what were the material facts of the case and the propositions of law emanating therefrom. This exercise we have undertaken in the light of what Rupert Cross and J.W.Harris in their 'PRECEDENT IN ENGLISH LAW', 4th Edition – CLARENDON, at page 39 have said: "the ratio decidendi is best approached by a consideration of the structure of a typical judgment…A Judge generally summarizes the evidence, announcing his findings of fact and reviews the arguments that have been addressed to him by counsel for each of the parties. If a point of law has been raised, he often discusses a number of previous decisions…It is not everything said by a Judge when giving judgment that constitutes a precedent…This status is reserved for his pronouncements on the law…The dispute is solely concerned with the facts…It is not always easy to distinguish law from fact and the reasons which led a Judge to come to a factual conclusion…" What LORD HALSBURY said more than a century ago in the celebrated case of QUINN vs. LEATHEM[73'] is worth noting. He had craftily articulated that a decision is an authority for the proposition that is laid down in a given fact matrix, and not for all that which logically follows from what has been so laid down.

(ii) With the above in mind, let us examine the material facts of BIJOE EMMANUEL: Three 'law abiding children' being the faithful of Jehovah witnesses, did

respectfully stand up but refused to sing the National Anthem in the school prayer. This refusal was founded on the dicta of their religion. They were expelled under the instructions of Deputy Inspector of School. These instructions were proven to have no force of law. They did not prevent the singing of National Anthem nor did they cause any disturbance while others were singing. Only these facts tailored the skirt, rest being the frills. The decision turned out to be more on the right to religion than freedom of conscience, although there is some reference to the conscience. The court recognized the negative of a fundamental right i.e., the freedom of speech & expression guaranteed under Article 19 as including right to remain silent. What weighed with the court was the fact 'the children were well behaved, they respectfully stood up when the National Anthem was sung and would continue to do so respectfully in the future' (paragraph 23). Besides, Court found that their refusal to sing was not confined to Indian National Anthem but extended to the Songs of every other country.

(iii) True it is that the BIJOE EMMANUEL reproduces the following observation of Davar J. made in JAMSHEDJI CURSETJEE TARACHAND vs. SOONABAI[74]:

> "…If this is the belief of the community--and it is proved undoubtedly to be the belief of the Zoroastrian community--a secular judge is bound to accept that belief--it is not for him to sit in judgment on that belief--he has no right to interfere with the conscience of a donor who makes a gift in favour of what he believes to be in advancement of his religion and for the welfare of his community or of mankind…"

These observations essentially relate to 'the belief of the Zoroastrian community'. It very little related to the 'freedom of conscience' as envisaged under Article 25 of the Constitution enacted about four decades thereafter. The expression 'conscience of a donor' is in the light of religious belief much away from 'freedom of conscience'. After all the meaning of a word takes its colour with the companion words i.e., noscitur a sociis. After all, a word in a judgment cannot be construed as a word employed in a Statute. In the absence of demonstrable conformity to the essentials of a decision, the denomination emerging as a ratio would not be an operationable entity in every case comprising neighbourly fact matrix. What is noticeable is that BIJOE EMMANUEL did not demarcate the boundaries between 'freedom of conscience' and 'right to practise religion' presumably because the overt act of the students in respectfully standing up while National Anthem was being sung transcended the realm of their conscience and took their case to the domain of religious belief. Thus, BIJOE EMMANUEL is not the best vehicle for drawing a proposition essentially founded on freedom of conscience.

XII. PLEADINGS AND PROOF AS TO ESSENTIAL RELIGIOUS PRACTICE:

(i) In order to establish their case, claimants have to plead and prove that wearing of hijab is a religious requirement and it is a part of 'essential religious practice' in Islam in the light of a catena of decision of the Apex Court that ultimately ended with INDIAN YOUNG LAWYERS ASSOCIATION. The same has already been summarized by us above. All these belong to the domain of facts. In NARAYANA DEEKSHITHULU, it is said: "…What are essential parts of religion or religious belief or matters of religion and religious practice is essentially a question of fact to be considered in the context in which the question has arisen and the evidence-factual or legislative or historic-presented in that context is required to be considered and a decision reached…" The claimants have to plead these facts and produce requisite material to prove the same. The respondents are more than justified in contending that the Writ Petitions lack the essential averments and that the petitioners have not loaded to the record the evidentiary material to prove their case. The material before us is extremely meager and it is surprising that on a matter of this significance, petition averments should be as vague as can be. We have no affidavit before us sworn to by any Maulana explaining the implications of the suras quoted by the petitioners' side. Pleadings of the petitioners are not much different from those in MOHD. HANIF QUARESHI, supra which the Apex Court had critized. Since how long all the petitioners have been wearing hijab is not specifically pleaded. The plea with regard to wearing of hijab before they joined this institution is militantly absent. No explanation is offered for giving an undertaking at the time of admission to the course that they would abide by school discipline. The Apex Court in INDIAN YOUNG LAWYERS ASSOCIATION, supra, has stated that matters that are essential to religious faith or belief; have to be adjudged on the evidence borne out by record. There is absolutely no material placed on record to prima facie show that wearing of hijab is a part of an essential religious practice in Islam and that the petitioners have been wearing hijab from the beginning. This apart, it can hardly be argued that hijab being a matter of attire, can be justifiably treated as fundamental to Islamic faith. It is not that if the alleged practice of wearing hijab is not adhered to, those not wearing hijab become the sinners, Islam loses its glory and it ceases to be a religion. Petitioners have miserably failed to meet the threshold requirement of pleadings and proof as to wearing hijab is an inviolable religious practice in Islam and much less a part of 'essential religious practice'.

In view of the above discussion, we are of the considered opinion that wearing of hijab by Muslim women does not form a part of essential religious practice in Islamic faith.

XIII. AS TO SCHOOL DISCIPLINE & UNIFORM AND POWER TO PRESCRIBE THE SAME:

(i) We are confronted with the question whether there is power to prescribe dress code in educational institutions. This is because of passionate submissions of the petitioners that there is absolutely no such power in the scheme of 1983 Act or the Rules promulgated thereunder. The idea of schooling is incomplete without teachers, taught and the dress code. Collectively they make a singularity. No reasonable mind can imagine a school without uniform. After all, the concept of school uniform is not of a nascent origin. It is not that, Moghuls or Britishers brought it here for the first time. It has been there since the ancient gurukul days. Several Indian scriptures mention samavastr/shubhravesh in Samskrit, their English near equivalent being uniform. 'HISTORY OF DHARMASĀSTRA' by P.V. Kane, Volume II, page 278 makes copious reference to student uniforms. (This work is treated by the Apex Court as authoritative vide DEOKI NANDAN vs. MURLIDHAR[75]). In England, the first recorded use of standardized uniform/dress code in institutions dates to back to 1222 i.e., Magna Carta days. 'LAW, RELIGIOUS FREEDOMS AND EDUCATION IN EUROPE' is edited by Myrian Hunter-Henin; Mark Hill, a contributor to the book, at Chapter 15 titles his paper 'BRACELETS, RINGS AND VEILS: THE ACCOMMODATION OF RELIGIOUS SYMBOLS IN THE UNIFORM POLICIES OF ENGLISH SCHOOLS'. At page 308, what he pens is pertinent:

> '…The wearing of a prescribed uniform for school children of all ages is a near-universal feature of its educational system, whether in state schools or in private (fee-paying) schools. This is not a matter of primary or secondary legislation or of local governmental regulation but rather reflects a widespread and long-standing social practice. It is exceptional for a school not to have a policy on uniform for its pupils. The uniform (traditionally black or grey trousers, jumpers and jackets in the coloured livery of the school and ties for boys serves to identify individuals as members of a specific institution and to encourage and promote the corporate, collective ethos of the school. More subtly, by insisting upon identical clothing (often from a designated manufacturer) it ensures that all school children dress the same and appear equal: thus, differences of social and economic background that would be evident from the nature and extent of personal wardrobes are eliminated. It is an effective leveling feature-particularly in comprehensive secondary schools whose catchment areas may include a range of school children drawn from differing parental income brackets and social classes…'

'AMERICAN JURISPRUDENCE', 2nd Edition. (1973), Volume 68, edited by The Lawyers Cooperative Publishing Company states:

> "§249. In accord with the general principle that school authorities may make reasonable rules and regulations governing the conduct of pupils under their control, it may be stated generally that school authorities may prescribe the kind of dress to be worn by students or make reasonable regulations as to their personal appearance…It has been held that so long as students are under the control of school authorities, they may be required to wear a designated uniform, or may be forbidden to use face powder or cosmetics, or to wear transparent hosiery low-necked dresses, or any style of clothing tending toward immodesty in dress…
> §251. Several cases have held that school regulations proscribing certain hairstyles were valid, usually on the > basis that a legitimate school interest was served by such a regulation. Thus, it has been held that a public high school regulation which bars a student from attending classes because of the length or appearance of his hair is not invalid as being unreasonable, and arbitrary as having no reasonable connection with the successful operation of the school, since a student's unusual hairstyle could result in the distraction of other pupils, and could disrupt and impede the maintenance of a proper classroom atmosphere or decorum…"

(ii) The argument of petitioners that prescribing school uniforms pertains to the domain of 'police power' and therefore, unless the law in so many words confers such power, there cannot be any prescription, is too farfetched. In civilized societies, preachers of the education are treated next to the parents. Pupils are under the supervisory control of the teachers. The parents whilst admitting their wards to the schools, in some measure share their authority with the teachers. Thus, the authority which the teachers exercise over the students is a shared 'parental power'. The following observations In T.M.A.PAI FOUNDATION, at paragraph 64, lend credence to this view:

> "An educational institution is established only for the purpose of imparting education to the students. In such an institution, it is necessary for all to maintain discipline and abide by the rules and regulations that have been lawfully framed. The teachers are like foster- parents who are required to look after, cultivate and guide the students in their pursuit of education…"

It is relevant to state that not even a single ruling of a court nor a sporadic opinion of a jurist nor of an educationist was cited in support of petitioners argument that prescribing school uniform partakes the character of 'police power'. Respondents are justified in tracing this power to the text & context of sections 7(2) & 133 of the 1983 Act read with Rule 11 of 1995 Curricula Rules. We do not propose to reproduce these provisions that are as clear as gangetic waters. This apart, the Preamble to the 1983 Act mentions inter alia of "fostering the harmonious development of the mental and physical faculties of students and cultivating a scientific and secular outlook through education." Section 7(2)(g)(v) provides for promoting "harmony and the spirit of common brotherhood amongst all the people of India transcending religious, linguistic and regional or sectional diversities to renounce practices derogatory to the dignity of women." The Apex Court in MODERN DENTAL COLLEGE, supra, construed the term 'education' to include 'curricula' vide paragraph 123. The word 'curricula' employed in section 7(2) of the Act needs to be broadly construed to include the power to prescribe uniform. Under the scheme of 1983 Act coupled with international conventions to which India is a party, there is a duty cast on the State to provide education at least up to particular level and this duty coupled with power includes the power to prescribe school uniform.

(iii) In the LAW OF TORTS, 26th Edition by RATANLAL AND DHIRAJLAL at page 98, parental and quasi parental authority is discussed: "The old view was that the authority of a schoolmaster, while it existed, was the same as that of a parent. A parent, when he places his child with a schoolmaster, delegates to him all his own authority, so far as it is necessary for the welfare of the child. The modern view is that the schoolmaster has his own independent authority to act for the welfare of the child. This authority is not limited to offences committed by the pupil upon the premises of the school, but may extend to acts done by such pupil while on the way to and from the school…" It is relevant to mention an old English case in REX vs. NEWPORT (SALOP)[76] which these authors have summarized as under:

> "At a school for boys there was a rule prohibiting smoking by pupils whether in the school or in public. A pupil after returning home smoked a cigarette in a public street and next day the schoolmaster administered to him five strokes with a cane. It was held that the father of the boy by sending him to the school authorized the schoolmaster to administer reasonable punishment to the boy for > breach of a school rule, and that the punishment administered was reasonable."

Even in the absence of enabling provisions, we are of the view that the power to prescribe uniform as of necessity inheres in every school subject to all just exceptions.

(iv) The incidental question as to who should prescribe the school uniform also figures for our consideration in the light of petitioners' contention that government has no power in the scheme of 1983 Act. In T.M.A.PAI FOUNDATION, the Apex Court observed at paragraph 55 as under:

> "…There can be no doubt that in seeking affiliation or recognition, the Board or the university or the affiliating or recognizing authority can lay down conditions consistent with the requirement to ensure the excellence of education. It can, for instance, indicate the quality of the teachers by prescribing the minimum qualifications that they must possess, and the courses of study and curricula. It can, for the same reasons, also stipulate the existence of infrastructure sufficient for its growth, as a pre-requisite. But the essence of a private educational institution is the autonomy that the institution must have in its management and administration. There, necessarily, has to be a difference in the administration of private unaided institutions and the government-aided institutions. Whereas in the latter case, the Government will have greater say in the administration, including admissions and fixing of fees, in the case of private unaided institutions, maximum autonomy in the day-to-day administration has to be with the private unaided institutions. Bureaucratic or governmental interference in the administration of such an institution will undermine its independence..."

Section 133(2) of the 1983 Act vests power in the government to give direction to any educational institution for carrying out the purposes of the Act or to give effect to any of the provisions of the Act or the Rules, and that the institution be it governmental, State aided or privately managed, is bound to obey the same. This section coupled with section 7(2) clothes the government with power inter alia to prescribe or caused to be prescribed school uniform. The government vide Circular dated 31.1.2014 accordingly has issued a direction. Significantly, this is not put in challenge and we are not called upon to adjudge its validity, although some submissions were made de hors the pleadings that to the extent the Circular includes the local Member of the Legislative Assembly and his nominee respectively as the President and Vice President of the College Betterment (Development) Committee, it is vulnerable for challenge. In furtherance thereof, it has also issued a Government Order dated 5.2.2022. We shall be discussing more about the said Circular and the Order, a bit later. Suffice it to say now that the contention as to absence of power to prescribe dress code in schools is liable to be rejected.

XIV. AS TO PRESCRIPTION OF SCHOOL UNIFORM TO THE EXCLUSION OF HIJAB IF VIOLATES ARTICLES, 14, 15, 19(1)(a) & 21:

(i) There has been a overwhelming juridical opinion in all advanced countries that in accord with the general principle, the school authorities may make reasonable regulations governing the conduct of pupils under their control and that they may prescribe the kind of dress to be worn by students or make reasonable regulations as to their personal appearance, as well. In MILLER vs. GILLS[77], a rule that the students of an agricultural high school should wear a khaki uniform when in attendance at the class and whilst visiting public places within 5 miles of the school is not ultra vires, unreasonable, and void. Similarly, in CHRISTMAS vs. EL RENO BOARD OF EDUCATION[78], a regulation prohibiting male students who wore hair over their eyes, ears or collars from participating in a graduation diploma ceremony, which had no effect on the student's actual graduation from high school, so that no educational rights were denied, has been held valid. It is also true that our Constitution protects the rights of school children too against unreasonable regulations. However, the prescription of dress code for the students that too within the four walls of the class room as distinguished from rest of the school premises does not offend constitutionally protected category of rights, when they are 'religion-neutral' and 'universally applicable' to all the students. This view gains support from Justice Scalia's decision in EMPLOYMENT DIVISION vs. SMITH[79]. School uniforms promote harmony & spirit of common brotherhood transcending religious or sectional diversities. This apart, it is impossible to instill the scientific temperament which our Constitution prescribes as a fundamental duty vide Article 51A(h) into the young minds so long as any propositions such as wearing of hijab or bhagwa are regarded as religiously sacrosanct and therefore, not open to question. They inculcate secular values amongst the students in their impressionable & formative years.

[77] (D.C. III) 315 F SUP. 94

(ii) The school regulations prescribing dress code for all the students as one homogenous class, serve constitutional secularism. It is relevant to quote the observations of Chief Justice Venkatachalaiah, in ISMAIL FARUQUI, supra:

> "The concept of secularism is one facet of the right to equality woven as the central golden thread in the fabric depicting the pattern of the scheme in our Constitution… In a pluralist, secular polity law is perhaps the greatest integrating force. Secularism is more than a passive…It is a positive concept of equal treatment of all religions. What is material is that it is a constitutional goal and a Basic Feature of the Constitution."

It is pertinent to mention that the preamble to the 1983 Act appreciably states the statutory object being "fostering the harmonious development of the mental and physical faculties of students and cultivating a scientific and secular outlook through education." This also accords with the Fundamental Duty constitutionally prescribed under Article 51A(e) in the same language, as already mentioned above. Petitioners' argument that 'the goal of education is to promote plurality, not promote uniformity or homogeneity, but heterogeneity' and therefore, prescription of student uniform offends the constitutional spirit and ideal, is thoroughly misconceived.

(iii) Petitioners argued that regardless of their freedom of conscience and right to religion, wearing of hijab does possess cognitive elements of 'expression' protected under Article 19(1)(a) vide NATIONAL LEGAL SERVICES AUTHORITY, supra and it has also the substance of privacy/autonomy that are guarded under Article 21 vide K.S.PUTTASWAMY, supra.

Learned advocates appearing for them vociferously submit that the Muslim students would adhere to the dress code with hijab of a matching colour as may be prescribed and this should be permitted by the school by virtue of 'reasonable accommodation'. If this proposal is not conceded to, then prescription of any uniform would be violative of their rights availing under these Articles, as not passing the 'least restrictive test' and 'proportionality test', contended they. In support, they press into service CHINTAMAN RAO and MD. FARUK, supra. Let us examine this contention. The Apex Court succinctly considered these tests in INTERNET & MOBILE ASSN. OF INDIA vs. RESERVE BANK OF INDIA[80], with the following observations:

> "…While testing the validity of a law imposing a restriction on the carrying on of a business or a profession, the Court must, as formulated in Md. Faruk, attempt an evaluation of (i) its direct and immediate impact upon of the fundamental rights of the citizens affected thereby (ii) the larger public interest sought to be ensured in the light of the object sought to be achieved (iii) the necessity to restrict the citizens' freedom (iv) the inherent pernicious nature of the act prohibited or its capacity or tendency to be harmful to the general public and (v) the possibility of achieving the same object by imposing a less drastic restraint… On the question of proportionality, the learned Counsel for the petitioners relies upon the four-pronged test summed up in the opinion of the majority in Modern Dental College and Research > Centre v. State of Madhya Pradesh. These four tests are (i) that the measure is designated for a proper purpose (ii) that the measures are rationally connected to the fulfilment of the purpose (iii) that there are no alternative less invasive measures and (iv) that there is a proper relation between the importance of achieving the aim and the importance of limiting the right…But even by our own standards, we are obliged to see if there were less intrusive measures available and whether RBI has at least considered these alternatives..."

(iv) All rights have to be viewed in the contextual conditions which were framed under the Constitution and the way in which they have evolved in due course. As already mentioned above, the Fundamental Rights have relative content and their efficacy levels depend upon the circumstances in which they are sought to be exercised. To evaluate the content and effect of restrictions and to adjudge their reasonableness, the aforesaid tests become handy. However, the petitions we are treating do not involve the right to freedom of speech & expression or right to privacy, to such an extent as to warrant the employment of these tests for evaluation of argued restrictions, in the form of school dress code. The complaint of the petitioners is against the violation of essentially 'derivative rights' of the kind. Their grievances do not go to the core of substantive rights as such but lie in the penumbra thereof. So, by a sheer constitutional logic, the protection that otherwise avails to the substantive rights as such cannot be stretched too far even to cover the derivative rights of this nature, regardless of the 'qualified public places' in which they are sought to be exercised. It hardly needs to be stated that schools are 'qualified public places' that are structured predominantly for imparting educational instructions to the students. Such 'qualified spaces' by their very nature repel the assertion of individual rights to the detriment of their general discipline & decorum. Even the substantive rights themselves metamorphise into a kind of derivative rights in such places. These illustrate this: the rights of an under – trial detenue qualitatively and quantitatively are inferior to those of a free citizen. Similarly, the rights of a serving convict are inferior to those of an under – trial detenue. By no stretch of imagination, it can be gainfully argued that prescription of dress code offends students' fundamental right to expression or their autonomy. In matters like this, there is absolutely no scope for complaint of manifest arbitrariness or discrimination inter alia under Articles 14 & 15, when the dress code is equally applicable to all the students, regardless of religion, language, gender or the like. It is nobody's case that the dress code is sectarian.

(v) Petitioners' contention that 'a class room should be a place for recognition and reflection of diversity of society, a mirror image of the society (socially & ethically)' in its deeper analysis is only a hollow rhetoric, 'unity in diversity' being the oft quoted platitude since the days of IN RE KERALA EDUCATION BILL, supra , wherein paragraph 51 reads: '…the genius of India has been able to find unity in diversity by assimilating the best of all creeds and cultures.' The counsel appearing for Respondent Nos.15 & 16 in W.P.No.2146/2022, is justified in pressing into service a House of Lords decision in REGINA vs. GOVERNORS OF DENBIGH HIGH SCHOOL, supra wherein at paragraph 97, it is observed as under:

> "But schools are different. Their task is to educate the young from all the many and diverse families and communities in this country in accordance with the national curriculum. Their task is to help all of their pupils achieve their full potential. This includes growing up to play whatever part they choose in the society in which they are living. The school's task is also to promote the ability of people of diverse races, religions and cultures to live together in harmony. Fostering a sense of community and cohesion within the school is an important part of that. A uniform dress code can play its role in smoothing over ethnic, religious and social divisions…"

(vi) It hardly needs to be stated that our Constitution is founded on the principle of 'limited government'. "What is the most important gift to the common person given by this Constitution is 'fundamental rights', which may be called 'human rights' as well." It is also equally true that in this country, the freedom of citizens has been broadening precedent by precedent and the most remarkable feature of this relentless expansion is by the magical wand of judicial activism. Many new rights with which the Makers of our Constitution were not familiar, have been shaped by the constitutional courts. Though the basic human rights are universal, their regulation as of necessity is also a constitutional reality. The restriction and regulation of rights be they fundamental or otherwise are a small price which persons pay for being the members of a civilized community. There has to be a sort of balancing of competing interests i.e., the collective rights of the community at large and the individual rights of its members. True it is that the Apex Court in NATIONAL LEGAL SERVICES AUTHORITY supra, said that dressing too is an 'expression' protected under Article 19(1)(a) and therefore, ordinarily, no restriction can be placed on one's personal appearance or choice of apparel. However, it also specifically mentioned at paragraph 69 that this right is "subject to the restrictions contained in Article 19(2) of the Constitution." The said decision was structured keeping the

'gender identity' at its focal point, attire being associated with such identity. Autonomy and privacy rights have also blossomed vide K.S.PUTTASWAMY, supra. We have no quarrel with the petitioners' essential proposition that what one desires to wear is a facet of one's autonomy and that one's attire is one's expression. But all that is subject to reasonable regulation.

(vii) Nobody disputes that persons have a host of rights that are constitutionally guaranteed in varying degrees and they are subject to reasonable restrictions. What is reasonable is dictated by a host of qualitative & quantitative factors. Ordinarily, a positive of the right includes its negative. Thus, right to speech includes right to be silent vide BIJOE EMMANUEL. However, the negative of a right is not invariably coextensive with its positive aspect. Precedentially speaking, the right to close down an industry is not coextensive with its positive facet i.e., the right to establish industry under Article 19(1)(g) vide EXCEL WEAR vs. UNION OF INDIA[81]. Similarly, the right to life does not include the right to die under Article 21 vide COMMON CAUSE vs. UNION OF INDIA[82], attempt to commit suicide being an offence under Section 309 of Indian Penal Code. It hardly needs to be stated the content & scope of a right, in terms of its exercise are circumstantially dependent. Ordinarily, liberties of a person stand curtailed inter alia by his position, placement and the like. The extent of autonomy is enormous at home, since ordinarily residence of a person is treated as his inviolable castle. However, in 'qualified public places' like schools, courts, war rooms, defence camps, etc., the freedom of individuals as of necessity, is curtailed consistent with their discipline & decorum and function & purpose. Since wearing hijab as a facet of expression protected under Article 19(1)(a) is being debated, we may profitably advert to the 'free speech jurisprudence' in other jurisdictions. The Apex Court in INDIAN EXPRESS NEWSPAPERS vs. UNION OF INDIA[83] observed:

> "While examining the constitutionality of a law which is alleged to contravene Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution, we cannot, no doubt, be solely guided by the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States of America. But in order to understand the basic principles of freedom of speech and expression and the need for that freedom in a democratic country, we may take them into consideration...".

[83] (1985) 1 SCC 641

(viii) In US, the Fourteenth Amendment is held to protect the First Amendment rights of school children against unreasonable rules or regulations vide BURNSIDE vs. BYARS[84]. Therefore, a prohibition by the school officials, of a particular expression of opinion is held unsustainable where there is no showing that the exercise of the forbidden right would materially interfere with the requirements of a school' positive discipline. However, conduct by a student, in class or out of it, which for any reason-whether it stems from time, place, or type of behavior-materially disrupts class work or involves substantial disorder or invasion of the rights of others, is not immunized by the constitutional guaranty of freedom of speech vide JOHN F. TINKER vs. DES MOINES INDEPENDENT COMMUNITY SCHOOL, supra In a country wherein right to speech & expression is held to heart, if school restrictions are sustainable on the ground of positive discipline & decorum, there is no reason as to why it should be otherwise in our land. An extreme argument that the students should be free to choose their attire in the school individually, if countenanced, would only breed indiscipline that may eventually degenerate into chaos in the campus and later, in the society at large. This is not desirable to say the least. It is too farfetched to argue that the school dress code militates against the fundamental freedoms guaranteed under Articles, 14, 15, 19, 21 & 25 of the Constitution and therefore, the same should be outlawed by the stroke of a pen.

[84] 363 F 2d 744 (5th Cir. 1966)

(ix) CONCEDING HIJAB ON THE PRINCIPLE OF REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION:

The counsel for the petitioners passionately submitted that the students should be permitted to wear hijab of structure & colour that suit to the prescribed dress code. In support of this, they bank upon the 'principle of reasonable accommodation'. They drew our attention to the prevalent practice of dress codes/uniforms in Kendriya Vidyalayas. We are not impressed by this argument. Reasons are not far to seek: firstly, such a proposal if accepted, the school uniform ceases to be uniform. There shall be two categories of girl students viz., those who wear the uniform with hijab and those who do it without. That would establish a sense of 'social-separateness', which is not desirable. It also offends the feel of uniformity which the dress-code is designed to bring about amongst all the students regardless of their religion & faiths. As already mentioned above, the statutory scheme militates against sectarianism of every kind. Therefore, the accommodation which the petitioners seek cannot be said to be reasonable. The object of prescribing uniform will be defeated if there is non-uniformity in the matter of uniforms. Youth is an impressionable period when identity and opinion begin to crystallize. Young students are able to readily grasp from their immediate environment, differentiating lines of race, region, religion, language, caste, place of birth, etc. The aim of the regulation is to create a 'safe space' where such divisive lines should have no place and the ideals of egalitarianism should be readily apparent to all students alike. Adherence to dress code is a mandatory for students. Recently, a Division Bench of this Court disposed off on 28.08.2019, Writ Petition No.13751 OF 2019 (EDN-RES-PIL) between MASTER MANJUNATH vs. UNION OF INDIA on this premise. What the Kendriya Vidyalayas prescribe as uniform/dress code is left to the policy of the Central Government. Ours being a kind of Federal Structure (Professor K.C. Wheare), the Federal Units, namely the States need not toe the line of Center.

(x) Petitioners' heavy reliance on the South African court decision in MEC FOR EDUCATION: KWAZULU-NATAL, supra, does not much come to their aid. Constitutional schemes and socio-political ideologies vary from one country to another, regardless of textual similarities. A Constitution of a country being the Fundamental Law, is shaped by several streams of forces such as history, religion, culture, way of life, values and a host of such other factors. In a given fact matrix, how a foreign jurisdiction treats the case cannot be the sole model readily availing for adoption in our system which ordinarily treats foreign law & foreign judgments as matters of facts. Secondly, the said case involved a nose stud, which is ocularly insignificantly, apparently being as small as can be. By no stretch of imagination, that would not in any way affect the uniformity which the dress code intends to bring in the class room. That was an inarticulate factor of the said judgment. By and large, the first reason supra answers the Malaysian court decision too[85]. Malaysia being a theistic Nation has Islam as the State religion and the court in its wisdom treated wearing hijab as being a part of religious practice. We have a wealth of material with which a view in respectful variance is formed. Those foreign decisions cited by the other side of spectrum in opposing hijab argument, for the same reasons do not come to much assistance. In several countries, wearing of burqa or hijab is prohibited, is of no assistance to us. Noble thoughts coming from whichever direction are most welcome. Foreign decisions also throw light on the issues debated, cannot be disputed. However, courts have to adjudge the causes brought before them essentially in accordance with native law.

[85] HJH HALIMATUSSAADIAH BTE HJ KAMARUDDIN V. PUBLIC SERVICES COMMISSION, MALAYSIA (CIVIL APPEAL NO. 01-05-92) DECIDED ON 5-8-1994 [1994] 3 MLJ

In view of the above, we are of the considered opinion that the prescription of school uniform is only a reasonable restriction constitutionally permissible which the students cannot object to.

XV. AS TO VALIDITY OF GOVERNMENT CIRCULAR DATED 31.1.2014 CONCERNING THE FORMATION OF SCHOOL BETTERMENT (DEVELOPMENT) COMMITTEES:

(i) The government vide Circular dated 31.1.2014 directed constitution of School Betterment Committee inter alia with the object of securing State Aid & its appropriation and enhancing the basic facilities & their optimum utilization. This Committee in every Pre-University College shall be headed by the local Member of Legislative Assembly (MLA) as its President and his nominee as the Vice President. The Principal of the College shall be the Member Secretary. Its membership comprises of student representatives, parents, one educationist, a Vice Principal/Senior Professor & a Senior Lecturer. The requirement of reservation of SC/ST/Women is horizontally prescribed. It is submitted at the Bar that these Committees have been functioning since about eight years or so with no complaints whatsoever. Petitioners argued for Committee's invalidation on the ground that the presence of local Member of Legislative Assembly and his nominee would only infuse politics in the campus and therefore, not desirable. He also submits that even otherwise, the College Development Committee being extra-legal authority has no power to prescribe uniform.

(ii) We are not much inclined to undertake a deeper discussion on the validity of constitution & functioning of School Betterment (Development) Committees since none of the Writ Petitions seeks to lay challenge to Government Circular of January 2014. Merely because these Committees are headed by the local Member of Legislative Assembly, we cannot hastily jump to the conclusion that their formation is bad. It is also relevant to mention what the Apex Court said in

STATE OF PUNJAB VS. GURDEV SINGH[86], after referring to Professor Wade's Administrative Law:

> "…Apropos to this principle, Prof. Wade states: "the principle must be equally true even where the 'brand' of invalidity' is plainly visible; for their also the order can effectively be resisted in law only by obtaining the decision of the Court (See: Administrative Law 6th Ed. p. 352). Prof. Wade sums up these principles: The truth of the matter is that the court will invalidate an order only if 'the right remedy is sought by the right person in the right proceedings and circumstances. The order may be hypothetically a nullity, but the Court may refuse to quash it because of the plain- tiff's lack of standing, because he does not deserve a discretionary remedy, because he has waived his rights, or for some other legal reason. In any such case the 'void' order remains effective and is, in reality, valid. It follows that an order may be void for one purpose and valid for another, and that it may be void against one person but valid against another." (Ibid p. 352) It will be clear from these principles, the party aggrieved by the invalidity of the order has to approach the Court for relief of declaration that the order against him is inoperative and not binding upon him. He must approach the Court within the prescribed period of limitation. If the statutory time limit expires the Court cannot give the declaration sought for…"

It is nobody's case that the Government Circular is void ab initio and consequently, the School Betterment (Development) Committees are non est. They have been functioning since last eight years and no complaint is raised about their performance, nor is any material placed on record that warrants consideration of the question of their validity despite absence of pleadings & prayers. It hardly needs to be stated that schools & hospitals amongst other, are the electoral considerations and therefore, peoples' representatives do show concern for the same, as a measure of their performances. That being the position, induction of local Members of Legislative Assembly in the Committees per se is not a ground for voiding the subject Circular.

(iii) We have already held that the schools & institutions have power to prescribe student uniform. There is no legal bar for the School Betterment (Development) Committees to associate with the process of such prescription. However, there may be some scope for the view that it is not desirable to have elected representatives of the people in the school committees of the kind, one of the obvious reasons being the possible infusion of 'party-politics' into the campus. This is not to cast aspersion on anyone. We are not unaware of the advantages of the schools associating with the elected representatives. They may fetch funds and such other things helping development of institutions. This apart, no law or ruling is brought to our notice that interdicts their induction as the constituent members of such committees.

XVI. AS TO VALIDITY OF GOVERNMENT ORDER DATED 5.2.2022 PROVIDING FOR PRESCRIPTION OF DRESS CODES IN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS:

(i) The validity of Government Order dated 05.02.2022 had been hotly debated in these petitions. Petitioners argue that this order could not have been issued in purported exercise of power under sections 133 and 7(2) of the 1983 Act read with Rule 11 of the 1995 Curricula Rules. The State and other contesting respondents contend to the contrary, inter alia by invoking sections 142 & 143 of the 1983 Act, as well. This Order per se does not prescribe any dress code and it only provides for prescription of uniform in four different types of educational institutions. The near English version of the above as submitted by both the sides is already stated in the beginning part of the judgment. However, the same is reiterated for the ease of reference:

Students should compulsorily adhere to the dress code/uniform as follows:

a. in government schools, as prescribed by the government;
b. in private schools, as prescribed by the school management;
c. in Pre–University colleges that come within the jurisdiction of the Department of the Pre–University

Education, as prescribed by the College Development Committee or College Supervision Committee; and

d. wherever no dress code is prescribed, such attire that would accord with 'equality & integrity' and would not disrupt the 'public order'.

(ii) Petitioners firstly argued that this Order suffers from material irregularity apparent on its face inasmuch as the rulings cited therein do not lay down the ratio which the government wrongly states that they do. This Order refers to two decisions of the Kerala High Court and one decision of Bombay and Madras High Courts each. We have already discussed all these decisions supra at paragraph (X) and therefore, much need not be discussed here. Regardless of the ratio of these decisions, if the Government Order is otherwise sustainable in law, which we believe it does, the challenge thereto has to fail for more than one reason: The subject matter of the Government Order is the prescription of school uniform. Power to prescribe, we have already held, avails in the scheme of 1983 Act and the Rules promulgated thereunder. Section 133(2) of the Act which is broadly worded empowers the government to issue any directions to give effect to the purposes of the Act or to any provision of the Act or to any Rule made thereunder. This is a wide conferment of power which obviously includes the authority to prescribe school dress code. It is more so because Rule 11 of 1995 Curricula Rules itself provides for the prescription of school uniform and its modalities. The Government Order can be construed as the one issued to give effect to this rule itself. Such an order needs to be construed in the light of the said rule and the 2014 Circular, since there exists a kinship inter se. Therefore, the question as to competence of the government to issue order of the kind is answered in the affirmative.

(iii) Petitioners' second contention relates to exercise of statutory power by the government that culminated into issuance of the impugned order. There is difference between existence of power and the exercise of power; existence of power per se does not justify its exercise. The public power that is coupled with duty needs to be wielded for effectuating the purpose of its conferment. Learned counsel appearing for the students argued that the Government Order has to be voided since the reasons on which it is structured are ex facie bad and that new grounds cannot be imported to the body of the Order for infusing validity thereto vide COMMISSIONER OF

POLICE vs. GORDHANDAS BHANJE[87]. This decision articulated the Administrative Law principle that the validity of a statutory order has to be adjudged only on the reasons stated in the order itself. We have no quarrel with this principle which has been reiterated in MOHINDER SINGH GILL, supra. However, we are not sure of its invocation in a case wherein validity of the impugned order can otherwise be sustained on the basis of other intrinsic material. As we have already mentioned, the Government Order is issued to give effect to the purposes of the 1983 Act and to Rule 11 of the 1995 Curricula Rules. That being the position the question of un-sustainability of some of the reasons on which the said Order is constructed, pales into insignificance.

(iv) Petitioners next argued that the Government Order cites 'sārvajanika suvyavasthe' i.e., 'public order' as one of the reasons for prescribing uniform to the exclusion of hijab; disruption of public order is not by those who wear this apparel but by those who oppose it; most of these opposers wear bhagwa or such other cloth symbolic of religious overtones. The government should take action against the hooligans disrupting peace, instead of asking the Muslim girl students to remove their hijab. In support of this contention, they drew attention of the court to the concept of 'hecklers veto' as discussed in K.M.SHANKARAPPA, supra. They further argued that ours being a 'positive secularism', the State should endeavor to create congenial atmosphere for the exercise of citizens rights, by taking stern action against those who obstruct vide PRAVEEN BHAI THOGADIA, supra. Again we do not have any quarrel with the proposition of law. However, we are not convinced that the same is invocable for invalidating the Government Order, which per se does not prescribe any uniform but only provides for prescription in a structured way, which we have already upheld in the light of our specific finding that wearing hijab is not an essential religious practice and school uniform to its exclusion can be prescribed. It hardly needs to be stated that the uniform can exclude any other apparel like bhagwa or blue shawl that may have the visible religious overtones. The object of prescribing uniform cannot be better stated than by quoting from 'MANUAL ON SCHOOL UNIFORMS' published by U.S. Department of Education:

> 'A safe and disciplined learning environment is the first requirement of a good school. Young people who are safe and secure, who learn basic American values and the > essentials of good citizenship, are better students. In response to growing levels of violence in our schools, many parents, teachers, and school officials have come to see school uniforms as one positive and creative way to reduce discipline problems and increase school safety.'

(v) We hasten to add that certain terms used in a Government Order such as 'public order', etc., cannot be construed as the ones employed in the Constitution or Statutes. There is a sea of difference in the textual structuring of legislation and in promulgating a statutory order as the one at hands. The draftsmen of the former are ascribed of due diligence & seriousness in the employment of terminology which the government officers at times lack whilst textually framing the statutory policies. Nowadays, courts do often come across several Government Orders and Circulars which have lavish terminologies, at times lending weight to the challenge. The words used in Government Orders have to be construed in the generality of their text and with common sense and with a measure of grace to their linguistic pitfalls. The text & context of the Act under which such orders are issued also figure in the mind. The impugned order could have been well drafted, is true. 'There is scope for improvement even in heaven' said Oscar Wilde. We cannot resist ourselves from quoting what Justice Holmes had said in TOWNE vs.

EISNER[88], "a word is not a crystal, transparent and unchanged; it is the skin of a living thought and may vary greatly in color and content according to the circumstances and the time in which it is used." Thus, there is no much scope for invoking the concept of 'law and order' as discussed in ANITA and GULAB ABBAS, supra, although the Government Order gives a loose impression that there is some nexus between wearing of hijab and the 'law & order' situation.

(vi) Petitioners had also produced some 'loose papers' without head and tail, which purported to be of a brochure issued by the Education Department to the effect that there was no requirement of any school uniform and that the prescription of one by any institution shall be illegal. There is nothing on record for authenticating this version. Those producing the same have not stated as to who their author is and what legal authority he possessed to issue the same. Even otherwise, this purported brochure cannot stand in the face of Government Order dated 05.02.2022 whose validity we have already considered. Similarly, petitioners had banked upon the so called research papers allegedly published by 'Pew Research Centre' about r*eligious clothing and personal* appearance. They contend that this paper is generated from the research that studied various religious groups & communities and that a finding has been recorded: 'Most Hindu, Muslim and Sikh women cover their heads outside the home' and therefore, the Government Order which militates against this social reality, is arbitrary. We are not inclined to subscribe to this view. No credentials of the researchers are stated nor the representative character of the statistics mentioned in the papers are demonstrated. The authenticity of the contents is apparently lacking.

(vii) Petitioners contended that the said Government Order has been hastily issued even when the contemplated High Powered Committee was yet to look into the issue as to the desirability of prescription and modules of dress codes in the educational institutions. The contents of Government Order give this impression, is true. However, that is too feeble a ground for faltering a policy decision like this. At times, regard being had to special conditions like social unrest and public agitations, governments do take certain urgent decisions which may appear to be knee-jerk reactions. However, these are matters of perceptions. May be, such decisions are at times in variance with their earlier stand.

Even that cannot be faltered when they are dictated by circumstances. After all, in matters of this kind, the doctrine of 'estoppel' does not readily apply. Whether a particular decision should be taken at a particular time, is a matter left to the executive wisdom, and courts cannot run a race of opinions with the Executive, more particularly when policy content & considerations that shaped the decision are not judicially assessable. The doctrine of 'separation of powers' which figures in our constitution as a 'basic feature' expects the organs of the State to show due deference to each other's opinions. The last contention that the Government Order is a product of 'acting under dictation' and therefore, is bad in law is bit difficult to countenance. Who acted under whose dictation cannot be adjudged merely on the basis of some concessional arguments submitted on behalf of the State Government. Such a proposition cannot be readily invoked inasmuch as invocation would affect the institutional dignity & efficacy of the government. A strong case has to be made to invoke such a ground, in terms of pleadings & proof.

In view of the above, we are of the considered opinion that the government has power to issue the impugned Order dated 05.2.2022 and that no case is made out for its invalidation.

XVII. INTERNATIONAL CONVENTIONS AND EMANCIPATION OF WOMEN:

(i) There have been several International Conventions & Conferences in which India is a participant if not a signatory. UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS (1948), CONVENTION OF ELIMINATION ON ALL FORMS OF DISCRIMINATION AGAINST WOMEN (1981), INTERNATIONAL COVENANTS ON CIVIL AND POLITICAL RIGHTS (1966), UNITED NATIONS CONVENTION ON RIGHTS OF CHILD (1989), are only a few to name. Under our Constitutional Jurisprudence, owing to Article 51 which provides for promotion of international peace & security, the International Conventions of the kind assume a significant role in construing the welfare legislations and the statutes which have kinship to the subject matter of such Conventions. In a sense, these instruments of International Law permeate into our domestic law. Throughout, there has been both legislative & judicial process to emancipate women from pernicious discrimination in all its forms and means. Women regardless of religion being equal, if not superior to men, are also joining defence services on permanent commission basis vide Apex

Court decision in C.A.No.9367-9369/2011 between THE SECRETARY, MINISTRY OF DEFENCE vs. BABITA PUNIYA, decided on 17.2.2020. Be it business, industry, profession, public & private employments, sports, arts and such other walks of life, women are breaking the glass ceiling and faring better than their counterparts.

(ii) It is relevant to quote what Dr. B.R.Ambedkar in his book 'PAKISTAN OR THE PARTITION OF INDIA' (1945) at Chapter X, Part 1 titled 'Social Stagnation' wrote:

> "…A woman (Muslim) is allowed to see only her son, brothers, father, uncles, and husband, or any other near relation who may be admitted to a position of trust. She cannot even go to the Mosque to pray, and must wear burka (veil) whenever she has to go out. These burka woman walking in the streets is one of the most hideous sights one can witness in India…The Muslims have all the social evils of the Hindus and something more. That something more is the compulsory system of purdah for Muslim women… Such seclusion cannot have its deteriorating effect upon the physical constitution of Muslim women… Being completely secluded from the outer world, they engage their minds in petty family quarrels with the result that they become narrow and restrictive in their outlook… They cannot take part in any outdoor activity and are weighed down by a slavish mentality and an inferiority complex…Purdah women in particular become helpless, timid…Considering the large number of purdah women amongst Muslims in India, one can easily understand the vastness and seriousness of the problem of purdah…As a consequence of the purdah system, a segregation of Muslim women is brought about …"

What the Chief Architect of our Constitution observed more than half a century ago about the purdah practice equally applies to wearing of hijab there is a lot of scope for the argument that insistence on wearing of purdah, veil, or headgear in any community may hinder the process of emancipation of woman in general and Muslim woman in particular. That militates against our constitutional spirit of 'equal opportunity' of 'public participation' and 'positive secularism'. Prescription of school dress code to the exclusion of hijab, bhagwa, or any other apparel symbolic of religion can be a step forward in the direction of emancipation and more particularly, to the access to education. It hardly needs to be stated that this does not rob off the autonomy of women or their right to education inasmuch as they can wear any apparel of their choice outside the classroom.

XVIII. AS TO PRAYER FOR A WRIT OF QUO WARRANTO IN SOME WRIT PETITIONS:

The petitioners in W.P. No.2146/2022, have sought for a Writ of Mandamus for initiating a disciplinary enquiry on the ground that the respondent Nos.6 to 14 i.e., Principal & teachers of the respondent-college are violating the departmental guidelines which prohibit prescription of any uniform and for their hostile approach. Strangely, petitioners have also sought for a Writ of Quo Warranto against respondent Nos. 15 & 16 for their alleged interference in the administration of 5th respondent school and for promoting political agenda. The petition is apparently ill-drafted and pleadings lack cogency and coherence that are required for considering the serious prayers of this kind. We have already commented upon the Departmental Guidelines as having no force of law. Therefore, the question of the said respondents violating the same even remotely does not arise. We have also recorded a finding that the college can prescribe uniform to the exclusion of hijab or bhagwa or such other religious symbols, and therefore, the alleged act of the respondents in seeking adherence to the school discipline & dress code cannot be faltered. Absolutely no case is made out for granting the prayers or any other reliefs on the basis of these pleadings. The law of Quo Warranto is no longer in a fluid state in our country; the principles governing issuance of this writ having been well defined vide UNIVERSITY OF MYSORE vs. C.D. GOVINDA RAO[89] . For seeking a Writ of this nature, one has to demonstrate that the post or office which the person concerned holds is a public post or a public office. In our considered view, the respondent Nos.15 & 16 do not hold any such position in the respondent-school. Their placement in the College Betterment (Development) Committee does not fill the public character required as a pre-condition for the issuance of Writ of Quo Warranto.

In view of the above, we are of the considered opinion that no case is made out in W.P. No.2146/2022 for issuance of a direction for initiating disciplinary enquiry against respondent Nos. 6 to 14. The prayer for issuance of Writ of Quo Warranto against respondent Nos. 15 and 16 is rejected being not maintainable.

From the submissions made on behalf of the Respondent – Pre – University College at Udupi and the material placed on record, we notice that all was well with the dress code since 2004. We are also impressed that even Muslims participate in the festivals that are celebrated in the 'ashta mutt sampradāya', (Udupi being the place where eight Mutts are situated). We are dismayed as to how all of a sudden that too in the middle of the academic term the issue of hijab is generated and blown out of proportion by the powers that be. The way, hijab imbroglio unfolded gives scope for the argument that some 'unseen hands' are at work to engineer social unrest and disharmony. Much is not necessary to specify. We are not commenting on the ongoing police investigation lest it should be affected. We have perused and returned copies of the police papers that were furnished to us in a sealed cover. We expect a speedy & effective investigation into the matter and culprits being brought to book, brooking no delay.

XIX. THE PUBLIC INTEREST LITIGATIONS:

(i) One Dr. Vinod Kulkarni has filed PIL in W.P.No.3424/2022 seeking a Writ of Mandamus to the Central Government and State Government inter alia 'to permit Female Muslim students to sport Hijab provided they wear the stipulated school uniform also' (sic). The petition mentions about BIJOE EMMANUEL, INDIAN YOUNG LAWYERS ASSOCIATION, JAGADISHWARANANDA AVADHUTA, CHANDANMAL vs. STATE OF WEST BENGAL[90] and such other cases. Petition is unsatisfactorily structured on the basis of some print & electronic media reports that are not made part of the paper book. There is another PIL in GHANSHYAM UPADHYAY VS. UNION OF INDIA in W.P.No.4338/2022 (GM-

[90] AIR 1986 CAL. 104

RES-PIL) inter alia seeking a Writ of Mandamus for undertaking an investigation by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), National Investigating Agency (NIA) as to the involvement of radical Islamic organizations such as Popular Front of India, Students Islamic Organization of India, Campus Front of India and Jamaat-e-Islami and their funding by some foreign universities to Islamize India. There are other incoherent prayers. This petitioner opposes the case of students who desire to wear hijab. Most of the contentions taken up in these petitions are broadly treated in the companion Writ Petitions. We are not inclined to entertain these two Writ Petitions filed in PIL jurisdiction, both on the ground of their maintainability & merits. The second petition, it needs to be stated, seeks to expand the parameters of the essential lis involved in all these cases much beyond the warranted frame of consideration. In W.P.No.3942/2022 (GM-RES-PIL) between ABDUL MANSOOR MURTUZA SAYED AND STATE OF KARNATAKA decided on 25.02.2022, we have already held that when the aggrieved parties are effectively prosecuting their personal causes, others cannot interfere by invoking PIL jurisdiction. A battery of eminent lawyers are representing the parties on both the sides. Even otherwise, no exceptional case is made out for our indulgence.

In view of the above, we are of the considered opinion that both the above Writ Petitions filed as Public Interest Litigations are liable to be rejected, absolutely no case having been made out for indulgence.

In the above circumstances, all these petitions being devoid of merits, are liable to be and accordingly are dismissed. In view of dismissal of these Writ Petitions, all pending applications pale into insignificance and are accordingly, disposed off.

Costs made easy.

SPECIAL LEAVE PETITION FILED UNDER ARTICLE 136 OF THE CONSTITUTION OF INDIA

To

The Hon'ble Chief Justice of India

And His companion Justices of the Supreme Court of India

The Humble petition of the petitioner above named

MOST RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH:-

1. That the present Special Leave Petition is being filed challenging the final Judgment and Order dated 15-03-2022 passed by the High Court of Karnataka at Bengaluru in W.P. (C) No. 2347 of 2022, whereby the High Court dismissed the Writ Petition filed by the Petitioners.

1A. The impugned Judgment was passed by, Division Bench of the High Court against which the petitioner is filing this SLP without moving intra court appeal.

2. QUESTIONS OF LAW

The following substantial questions of law arise in this Special Leave Petition for the kind consideration of this Hon'ble Court:

(i) Whether the High Court is justified in holding that wearing hijab is not an essential practice of Islam so as to get protection under Article 25 of the Constitution of India, when hijab is a kind of veil that Muslim women wear to cover their head and neck as dictated in Quran and Hadis?

(ii) When there is express wordings in Holy Quran and teachings of Prophet Muhammed as reflected in hadis that girls, after attaining puberty, should cover their head and neck also and should not expose their body except face and fore-arms while in public area, whether the High Court is justified in holding that this practice is not an essential religious practice?

(iii) Whether the High Court is justified in giving predominance to footnotes to Qur'anic verses written by one translator over and above the plain reading of that verses and authoritative hadis, which are recognised as primary sources of Islamic law by this Hon'ble Court*?*

(iv) Whether the High Court is justified in holding that wearing hijab is not essential to Islamic faith only because there is no penalty or penance prescribed in the religious texts for not wearing hijab?

(v) Whether the High Court is justified in holding that Muslim women covering their head and neck in public places is not a matter of 'conscience' or 'expression of religious faith' so as to be protected under Articles 19 (1) and 25 of the Constitution?

(vi) Whether the proscription of covering head and neck by Muslim students inside educational institutions, even with a veil of same colour of prescribed uniform, can be upheld as a ‘reasonable restriction’ to maintain public order as contemplated in Article 25 of the Constitution?

3. DECLARATION INTERMS OF RULE 3 (2)

The petitioner states that no other petition seeking leave to appeal has been filed by him against the impugned judgment and order.

4. DECLARATION IN TERMS OF RULE 5

The Annexure Nil to produced along with the S.L.P are true copies of the pleadings /documents which formed part of the records of the case in the court below against whose order the leave to appeal is sought for in this petition.

5. GROUNDS

The leave to appeal is prayed on the following among other grounds:

A. That covering head and neck of woman in the presence of male outside her immediate family is the express dictum of Qur’anic verses and includes in teachings of Muhammed, the Messenger of God and supreme leader of Muslim community. Muslim women across the globe follow this practice in obedience of Qur’anic dictum and teachings of Muhammed ever since the period of Muhammed. Different types of veil are used by Muslim women at different point of time and in different parts of the world to cover their head and neck apart from other garments to cover their body. Hijab is one such veil devised in modern period and it has got widespread acceptance by virtue of its comfort and modesty. It is not the hijab but the purpose behind it, i.e. properly covering head and neck, which is essential part of Islamic tenets.

B. That the Holy Quran speaks of mandatory requirement for women to cover their head and neck in more than one occasion. For instance, Surah 24 Ayat 31 reads as under:

> "And say to the believing women that they should lower their gaze and guard their modesty; that they should not display their beauty and ornaments except what (must ordinarily) appear thereof; that they should draw their veils (khumur) over their bosoms and not display their beauty except to their husband, their fathers, their husbands' father, their sons, their husbands' sons, their brothers or their brothers' sons, or their sisters' sons, or their women, or the slaves, whom their right hands possess, or male servants free from physical needs, or small children who have no sense of the shame of sex; that they should strike their feet In order to draw attention to their hidden ornaments. And O ye Believers! Turn ye all together Towards God, that ye May attain Bliss.*

Thus the Quran dictates to believing women to draw their khumur over their bosoms. Most of the authentic Arabic dictionaries define khumur as "something with which a woman conceals her head", "scarf" or "headgear". Wearing of khumur is a pre-Islamic tradition and the historical evidences suggest that women in that area used to wear this headscarf even before the introduction of Quran. According to the commentators of the Qur'an, the women of Medina in the pre-Islamic era used to put their khumur over the head with the two ends tucked behind and tied at the back of the neck, in the process exposing their ears and neck. By saying that, "place the khumur over the bosoms," Quran ordered the women to let the two ends of their headgear extend onto their bosoms so that they conceal their ears, the neck, and the upper part of the bosom also. The meaning of khumur and the context in which the verse was revealed clearly talks about concealing the head and then using the loose ends of the scarf to conceal the neck and the bosom. Finally the verse goes on to give the list of the mahram – male family members in whose presence the hijab is not required, such as the husband, the father, the father-in-law, the son(s), and others. However, the High Court has failed to appreciate the meaning and context of this Qur'anic verse in its proper perspective.

One other Qur'anic verse speaks of women dress code is Surah 33 Ayat 59, which reads as under:

> "Prophet! Tell Thy wives and daughters, and the believing women, That they should case their outer garments (Jalabib) over their persons (when abroad): That is most convenient, That they should be known (As such) and not molested. And God is Oft – Forgiving, Most Merciful."

The word used herein is 'jalabib', which means loose outer garments. This verse asks women to case their outer garments over their persons and it further goes to say that it is for their own convenient and safety. It is true that there is difference of opinion among Islamic scholars about mandatory nature of this verse. Some of the scholars like Abdullah Yusuf Ali would suggest that wearing such a loose outer garment over the entire person of woman is not mandatory as the same is prescribed only for her own comfort and safety. But there is no such difference of opinion over the mandatory nature of covering head and neck dictated in the earlier verse. It is the respectful submission of petitioner that High Court has erroneously taken these two verses out of their context and put together to hold that wearing hijab is not mandatory in Islamic faith.

C. That High Court has failed to appreciate the substantial difference between these two versus, and relied upon a footnote of Abdullah Yusuf Ali to Sura 33 Ayat 59 to hold a view that wearing hijab is only recommendatory.
D. That High Court has further erred in holding a view that absence of punishment or penance makes the wearing of

E. That other major source of Islamic law is Hadis, which means the precepts, actions and teachings of Prophet Muhammed. Hadis are not written by Muhammed but these are reported and codified by his disciples, who had first information of these actions and teachings directly from Muhammed. In one of such Hadis Abudawud has reported that Prophet Mohammed, while explaining the Quranic verses to his sister-in-law, said as follows:

> "O Asma! It is not correct for a woman to show her parts other than her hands and face to strangers after she begins to have menstruation."

In another Hadis reported by Thirmidi is as follows:

> "Abdullah, son of Umar bin al-Khattab, with whom Allah is pleased, reported that the Messenger of Allah, said: On the Day of Resurrection, Allah will not look at the man who trails his garment along boastfully". Thereupon, Umm Salamah asked, 'What should women do with their garments?' The Prophet said: 'They should lower their garments a hand span,' Umm Salamah further said, 'Women's feet would still be uncovered.' The Messenger of Allah (S), replied: 'Let them lower them a forearm's length, but not longer.'

Thus, the analysis of above mentioned Qur'anic verses and Hadis would show that it is a farz (the commandments of Quran) for women to cover their

who trails his garment along boastfully". Thereupon, Umm Salamah asked, 'What should women do with their garments?' The Prophet said: 'They should lower their garments a hand span,' Umm Salamah further said, 'Women's feet would still be uncovered.' The Messenger of Allah (S), replied: 'Let them lower them a forearm's length, but not longer.'

Thus, the analysis of above mentioned Qur'anic verses and Hadis would show that it is a farz (the commandments of Quran) for women to cover their head and neck and exposing the female body otherwise is forbidden. According to Islamic jurisprudence violation of farz is haram (Forbidden). Hence compelling Muslim girl/woman to avoid her headgear is violation of her right to follow the essential practice of her religion as protected under Article 25 of the Constitution.

F. That the High Court is not justified in reading footnote of Abdulla Yusuf Ali on high pedestal over and above the express wordings of Quran and Hadis. Footnotes of Yusuf Ali are only his personal opinion about the concerned Qur'anic verses and its historical background. This opinion cannot be considered as a source of Islamic law much less it could have been given higher credential than hadis.

G. That the High Court is also not justified in discarding hadis verses brought to its notice holding that credentials of its translator was not proved. First of all, when there is no dispute over existence of these hadis and their meaning is easily discernible from the plain reading the Court ought not to have insisted for proof for credential of its translator. It is to be noted herein that respondents have no case or dispute over the meaning of these hadis as explained by writ petitioners. Secondly, the translation produced before the court was extracted from a hadis Arabic – English translation written by Dr. Muhammed Muhsin Khan and published by Darussalam Publication of Riyad, Saudi Arabia. Dr. Muhammed Muhsin Khan was Director of Islamic University, Al-Madina Al-Munawwara (Kingdom of Saudi Arabia). Both this University as well as Darussalam Publication are well-known authorities in Islamic jurisprudence and literature. Hence the High Court ought not to have doubted their creditworthiness.

H. That the High Court is not justified in finding that wearing hijab is not a matter of conscience. Muslim women wear hijab as it is their conscience that the Quran and teachings of Prophet Muhammed tell them to cover their head and neck in public area. This conscience emanates from the above extracted Qur'anic verses and hadis. 'conscience' can be defined as what someone believes to be right and wrong. The conscience is a moral compass that helps direct people's actions. This Hon'ble Court has held in Ratilal v. State of Bombay AIR 1987 SC 748 that conscience is the ‘inmost thought’ or the sense of moral correctness that governs or influences the actions of an individual. Muslim women have, on the basis of these tenets of Quran and hadis, every reason to hold a conscience that they are religiously bound to wear a headscarf that is drawn up to their bosom covering their head and neck while in public appearance. Hence asking them to remove this veil would offend their conscience and thus their freedom of conscience protected under Article 25 would be infringed.

I. That petitioner does not want Muslim girls to defy the uniform dress code prescribed by the authority altogether. Pleading of petitioner is only to permit Muslim girl students to wear a headscarf of same colour as that of prescribed uniform along with the prescribed dress code. Wearing a hijab or similar headscarf of same colour of uniform dress by Muslim girl would not offend the ‘public order’ that is sought to be achieved through prescribing uniform in educational institutions. Compelling them to remove this headscarf also, insisting all students to wear same style of dress in classrooms and prescribing such a strict uniform dress code are anathema to the noble ideas of ‘pluralism’ and ‘inclusiveness’. State action prescribing such uniform dress pattern for entire student community not only fails the test of ‘reasonable restriction’ laid down by this Hon’ble Court but also affronts the cherished idea of ‘unity in diversity', which this nation has so far been proud of. It is the respectful submission of petitioner that such an absolute uniformity for citizens would not be inconsonance with the values of Indian Constitution but would be seen as a replica of fierce Nazi ideology.

6. GROUNDS FOR INTERIM RELIEF:

A. High Court, by Impugned Judgment has declared that wearing Hijab to cover head and neck by Muslim women is not an essential practice of Islam and hence not entitled to get protection under Article 25 of the Constitution of India. On the basis of this position High Court further upheld the order passed by state of Karnataka whereby wearing Hijab was banned in educational institutions. Petitioner apprehends that many other state may follow the suit and come up with similar orders on the strength of impugned judgment. It is the respectful submissions of the petitioner that cover head and neck of woman in the presence of male outside of her immediate family is the express dictum of Qur'anic verses and it is a part of teachings of Prophet Mohammed. Muslim women across the immemorial and as per historic evidence this practice was part of religious faith and practice of Islam ever since its inception. High Court has erred in finding otherwise and in effect, judgment of High Court and orders of respondent state stand in violation of constitutional rights of Muslim Community as a whole. The impugned judgment deserves reconsideration by this Hon'ble Court on various grounds. Considering the seriousness of issue involved the operation of impugned judgment may be stayed during the pendency of present Special Leave Petition.

B. That the petitioner has a good case on merits and the balance of convenience also lies in his favour. That if the operation of the impugned orders herein is not stayed, not only the petitioner but also the general public at large will suffer irreparable loss and injury and hence this Hon'ble Court may be pleased to stay the operation of the impugned order in the interest of justice.

7. MAIN PRAYER

In view of the above it is most respectfully prayed that this Hon'ble Court may be pleased to:-

a) Grant Special Leave to Appeal against the impugned Judgment and final Order dated 15-03-2022 passed by the High Court of Karnataka at Bengaluru in W.P. (C) No. 2347 of 2022;

b) Pass such other order or further orders as this Hon'ble Court may deem fit and proper in the circumstances of the case.

8. INTERIM RELIEF

In view of the above it is most respectfully prayed that this Hon'ble Court may be pleased to:-

(a) Pass an ad-interim ex-parte stay order staying the operation of final Judgment and Order dated 15-03-2022 passed by the High Court of Karnataka at Bengaluru in W.P. (C) No. 2347 of 2022;

(b) Pass such other order or further orders as this Hon'ble Court may deem fit and proper in the facts and circumstance of the case.

AND FOR THIS ACT OF KI-NDNESS YOUR PETITIONER AS IN DUTY BOUND SHALL EVER PRAY.

1. That the present Special Leave Petition is being filed challenging the final Judgment and Order dated 15-03-2022 passed by the High Court of Karnataka at Bengaluru in W.P. (C) No. 2347 of 2022, whereby the High Court dismissed the Writ Petition filed by the Petitioners.

2. The fact of case is not reproduced herein for sake of brevity and this Hon'ble Court may have kind enough to read relevant portion of SLP as part of this application as well.

3. The applicant herein was not a party before the High Court in the writ proceedings wherein the impugned Judgment was passed. However, this applicant is seriously affected by the operation of impugned Judgment.

4. The applicant herein is a religious organization of the Sunni Muslim scholars and clerics in Kerala. It was founded in 1926 and it stands registered under the Society Registration Act bearing Registration No. S.1/1934-1935. Petitioner is the largest Muslim organization in Kerala in terms of number of followers, number of mahals (territories divided into different areas) controlled, number of masjids and the number of madrasas (religious schools), colleges and other institutes run by it. Thus the petitioner is substantially aggrieved of the impugned judgment. Hence petitioner craves for permission to file the present Special Leave Petition challenging the said impugned judgment.

PRAYER

It is most respectfully submitted that this Hon'ble Court may be;

(a) Pleased to grant permission to the petitioners to file the present Special Leave Petition against the impugned final Judgment and Order dated 15-03-2022 passed by the High Court of Karnataka at Bengaluru in W.P. (C) No. 2347 of 2022;

(b) Pleased to pass such other orders of further orders, which this Hon'ble Court may deem fit and proper in the facts and circumstances of the case.

Sir,

In regard with the objection raised by the registry it is submitted that no document except the impugned judgment are necessary for the adjudication of the present Special Leave Petition.

In regard with objection no.4 requirement of Order dated 5.2.2022. It is submitted that the said order dated 05-02-2022 is not relevant in the present Special Leave Petition. Petitioner herein is from Kerala and the order dated 05-02-2022 is applicable only in Karnataka. Petitioner is not challenging that order but only challenging the observations in the impugned judgment of High Court. Further in regard with defect No. 5 it is submitted that the Writ before the High Court was a PIL but the petitioner herein was not party before the High Court and the copy of PIL is not available with petitioner.

Therefore, kindly register the matter in the present form as it is in my own risk.
